DEATH OF MR. C. J. CURTIN.

We regret to announce the death of a highly esteemed County Limerick solicitor, Mr. Cornelius J. Curtin, which took place at his residence, Ballybehy, Abbeyfeale, on Tuesday morning. Mr. Curtin had been in indifferent health for some months past, but continued to attend to his professional duties as usual until the previous day, when he felt acutely unwell, on reaching his office at the Central Hotel, and was obliged to return home early. The deceased gentleman was admitted to the profession in 1871, and enjoyed a large practice in West Limerick and the adjoining portion of Kerry. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock to-day, and was of a very large and representative character, the deceased gentleman having been most popular with all sections of the community.
