the character of Mrs. Quickly, and again give a powerful rendering of Portia, is undoubtedly possessed of most accomplished artistic versatility and power. Nothing could have been better than her rendering of either of the parts. So with Mr. Robert Spyers, who, whether as Petruchio, Falstaff or Shylock, was equally good in all. Miss Doherty Green too, as Bianca, Mistress Page or Nerissa, was excellent, and in the Merry Wives, with Miss Gaish as Mistress Ford, kept the house in a condition of unrestrained merriment by their delightful representations.
 All the other parts were filled in a way which stamped everyone of the company true artists, deserving all the commendation they received, and a great deal better patronage than has thus far been accorded, and which, if merit wins will be considerably improved upon to-night, tomorrow (when Paolo and Francesca will be presented) and Saturday, when Romeo and Juliet will be presented at the matinee, and the Merchant of Venice at night.

ATTACK ON A SEAMAN.

Last evening John Bond and his wife, Alice Bond, were remanded by Mr. Bourke, J.P., charged with having seriously assaulted a seafaring man named Robert McRevor in the vicinity of John street on the previous night. It is alleged that the injured man was decoyed into a hall-way and there well-beaten by the accused. He was subsequently brought to Barrington's Hospital and detained.

DEATH OF MRS. PETER FITZGERALD.

We deeply regret to record the death of a well known county lady, Mrs. Fitzgerald, wife of Mr.
 Peter Fitzgerald, J.P., which took place early yesterday morning, at Mondelilly, Adare. She had been but a comparatively short time ill, and her very premature demise has cast a gloom over a wide circle of friends. By rich and poor the deceased lady was, it can be said without exaggeration, beloved for her amiability and sweetness of disposition, and her unobtrusive charity. The funeral will leave Mondelilly for Adare at 12 o'clock on Saturday.

At the Fishery Board to-day, The Chairman said they had all heard with regret, with very great regret, of the death of Mrs Fitzgerald, and he would suggest that they should send a vote of condolence to her husband, Mr. Peter Fitzgerald.
 Mr. Place moved, and it was seconded unanimously—"That this Board has heard with very great regret of the death of Mrs. Peter Fitzgerald, of Mondelilly, and beg to tender their sincere sympathy to Mr. Fitzgerald in the great affliction, which has fallen upon him." It was also agreed that the secretary should send a copy of the resolution to Mr. Fitzgerald.
 The Board adjourned.

POSTPONEMENT.

Owing to the death of Mrs. Peter Fitzgerald the County Hounds will not meet on Friday, the 28th inst.
