ALMOST BURIED ALIVE.

A FORTUNATE ABSENCE.

A woman named Schuler, who apparently died suddenly at Heiden, Germany, was taken to siedeln Churchyard and lowered into a grave.
Mourners left before the earth was filled in as the gravedigger was unable to be present just then. When he did arrive he (says the "Telegraph's Berlin correspondent") tried to hear knockings and cries from the coffin. With the greatest difficulty he managed to burst open the coffin and rescue the woman. In an hour she was well enough to walk home.

DOCTOR SAYS:

"SHE MUST HAVE PURE FOOD."

Indulgence in improper or poorly cooked foods without doubt, often aggravates illness which ritious well-cooked food will, to a great extent, alleviate.

This is entirely reasonable when we consider that every tissue, bone and muscle is made from food. We must have food, and good food, to ensure health.

Grape-Nuts fully cooked breakfast food meets all requirements to the fullest extent, as is evidenced by thousands of letters from people who are using it daily.

A woman living in Hollywood, Co. Down, tells of great benefit her sister secured through the use of this scientific food:—

"My sister has been in a bad state of health for the last two years, the result of improper food; her body not being properly nourished, one of her lungs became affected with phthisis. She went to a hospital for consumptives, where she remaining getting neither better nor worse, suffering from indigestion, having to resort to medicine to keep her bowels. After three months in the hospital she came home and continued the treatment. At last her digestion became so bad she began to vomit. That was the worst of all.
Medicine not doing her any good, as a last resource, I got her a packet of Grape-Nuts. Almost from the first it began to act, and she began to take more interest in life. She can now eat any sort of food. She has put on weight, which is a great thing in her case, and does something besides. The doctor says there is every hope of her recovery, if she eats plenty, which I am glad to say she can do."

sympathy and letters of condolence received in their bereavement, and which they are unable to acknowledge individually.
