burglar?"
 "Don't you deplore the lack of artistic discrimination?" said one of the artists. "No, I don't," answered the other. "If there were more artistic discrimination some of us wouldn't be able to sell so many pictures."
 Amateur: "Your dog howls every time I sing." Neighbour: "I'm very sorry." "Why don't you stop him?" "Well, you see, we thought you were trying to get even with us by singing every time he howled." Tommy: "I'm a bit sorry you are engaged to a sister." Suitor: "Why?" Tommy: "Well, now you make love to her in plain view, but before it was a great deal more fun to watch you through the keyhole."
 "The reason I pitch up at sea is because I set such a naval store on myself. But I often pine to get back to port." "Oskum, now! You ought to get a rope's end for that. But I suppose you think you're a capital sailor."

It is stated that the late Mr. W. C. Whitney has left an estate worth between five and seven million pounds, entirely unencumbered.
 Several persons have died and over 100 persons have been poisoned in Obrezza, in Hungary, by drinking brandy contaminated with lead.
