

submitted to the Borough Council.

Mr. Webb regretted that so few members were present to speak on so interesting a subject (hear, hear.)

Mr. Pitt remarked that there might be public meetings of the proposed Association, to which all ratepayers, large and small could come.

The Chairman concurred.

Mr. Bourke said that he had not the slightest hostility to the Corporation, and as a former member of that body he was aware of the difficult duties they had to discharge.

After further discussion it was resolved on the motion of Mr. Bourke, seconded by Mr. Pitt:—
"That the following be appointed as a Committee to consider the most practical means by which the protection of the ratepayers from excessive civic expenditure may be attained and to report to next meeting of Chamber of Commerce, or if considered necessary to call a special meeting—Messrs. D. Begley, P. E. Bourke, F. C. Cleave, H. Coyle, E. G. Pitt, J. E. Goodbody, W. Holliday, J. Hayes, F. G. Kennedy, E. J. Long, J. F. Power, D. L. Roche, W. L. Stokes, A. W. Shaw, and W. Webb.

SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

(By Telegraph To-day.)

A serious accident occurred at Waterloo station at 3.30 this afternoon. An incoming passenger train from Reading collided with a goods train, and one passenger was killed, whilst six or seven were moved in ambulances to hospital. Many other passengers were more or less injured. The front part of the passenger train was wrecked.

GREAT MAY FAIR.

AT NEWCASTLE WEST.

(From our own Correspondent.)

There was a good supply all round, and every department filled well, with one exception, and that was beef, which was not equal to the demand, beef cattle being scarce just now. It was quick, keen and business-like, the rush and expeditious purchases in good quality strippers, two year olds and yearlings, which occurred in the early morning, and pleasing from the farmer's point of view that prices were well maintained. One of the largest buyers, Mr. Ratoliff, of Co. Meath, informed me the prices paid were as good as at any recent fair, and were exceeded in some instances, which ought to destroy the mania some farmers have of bringing their cattle to far off fairs at considerable expense, and frequently selling at a low price. Best beef sold at 60s. per cwt.; inferior sorts from 52s. to 56s. Mutton sold at from 81s. to 91s. per lb. Strippers of good quality sold quickly at from £10 10s. to £12 10s.; second class, £8 to £10. Two-year olds sold at from £10 to £11 10s.; yearlings £6 to £8 10s., and "culler" sorts at smaller prices. In-calf cows and heifers sold at from £12 to £16. Prices all round were well maintained, and there was a good supply. Pig sold the previous day at 45s. per cwt.; bonhams, 22s. 6d. to 27s. 6d. each; stores, 35s.

JAPANESE PROVERBS.

There is no shore to the bitter sea of Birth and Death.

Only by reason of having died does one enter into life.

Human life is like the dew of the morning.

One confession effaces the sins of even three years.

The fallen blossom never returns to the branch.

With one hair of a woman you can tether even a great elephant.

Never let go the reins of the wild colt of the heart.

Even the touching of sleeves in passing is caused by some relation in a former life.
