may well wonder that benevolent people should subscribe money, and put themselves to a great deal of trouble, in order to send some of our best servants abroad, when there are a great many more vacancies than there are applicants to fill them. Recently, for example, a party of maidservants was dispatched by a benevolent lady to South Africa. No doubt the wages look tempting, but it has to be considered that the cost of living is at least twice as much as it is in Britain, and one fails to perceive the advantage of sending these girls to a country which is strange to them, where the resources of civilisation are very much fewer than they are here, and where the wages that they receive will purchase no more than the money they could earn at home.

 Where women do the courting, "home rule" is likely to be feminine.
 "Live on sixpence a day, and earn it," if adopted, would ruin all the quacks in the kingdom.
 A kind voice is to the heart what light is to the eye.
 Men who will have company, must have money.
 Talent and Temper often go together.

EPITAPH ON A CHRISTIAN SOLDIER.

The body of man goeth back to the dust,
 His spirit returneth on high to its Giver—
 The sheath of the sabre shall moulder in rust,
 The blade of the sword shall shine brightly for ever.
 Salvation's Great Captain Earth's battlefield trod.
 But not in Earth's panoply was he victorious :
 His troops must be clad in like "armour of God,"
 And, winning through Him, share His triumph all glorious. Z.

SUDDEN DEATH.

On Monday evening the wife of a respectable farmer named Mr. Florence M'Carthy, of Craigue, was found dead at Shanbally, about a half mile from Abbeyfeale, on the Kerry side. The deceased, who succumbed to heart failure, was returning home by a short way from Abbeyfeale market at the time, and had been speaking to a neighbour, who passed her on his way to town, only a few minutes previously. Her death has caused a shock to her many friends and relatives, for whom much sympathy is felt.
