

steamers elsewhere. Consol of the weekly service of in the near future is very im-aire crofter, named William was the last of a family of just died at Strathglass. ty-six years of age. His died at the ages of ninety-ht years. The average age of ily was eighty-six years.

GO IN COURT.

TO THE MAGISTRATES. (Own Correspondent.)

1 Petty Sessions Court on Mr. A. M. Harper, R.M. Batt. Culligan, Mr. M. S. omas Talty, a woman named he Glen, Kilrush, had several son, a sailor, on last Saturday. did he do to you?" answered the do to me?" answered the was the Chairman's in- adalised me in every way he ing else? etorted the amiable plaintiff. it worse could he do?" did he do to you?" did he do to me. He did to me. You are as deaf, ughter). Turning to the t the h—are ye laughing at assault did he commit on ou answer. What he did to oceeded Mrs. Doyle in a ye are droll people, and as whole of ye; he abused id dragged me by the head s breakfast, but ye are only ar a woman talking to ye, are ye at all?" (roars of in-court who were enjoying -Hold ye'r tongues ye pack ghter). She then evinced have a "go" for some of d to wind her fist in a gesticulating wildly. ompson said the woman seemed to fall in with the ion aintiff)—Go home out of case. rs. Doyle gave more vent out, and on reaching the sive expression, which, if rman's ears, would un- r a month in Limerick.

WESTERN RAILWAY.
(By Telegraph To-day.)
Western Railway have r the past half-year at t per annum.

knitting and hosiery industry carried on in St. Lelia's School.
The resolution, an elaborate one, was carried, and copies of same ordered to be sent to the Chief Secretary, Alderman Joyce, and Rev J. Dowling, Secretary to the Irish Technical Congress.

THE NELSON PENSION SCHEME. (By Telegraph To-day.)

In the Chancery Division to-day, Mr. Danckwerts, K.C., who appeared to oppose Mr. Morrison's petition for a winding-up order against the Nelson Share Syndicate, Ltd., applied for an adjournment that he might have an opportunity of considering the evidence, and Mr. Coleridge for petitioner, and Mr. Hamilton, K.C., for interested shareholders not objecting, Mr. Justice Buckley granted an adjournment for a week on the understanding that affidavits were to be filed by 4 o'clock on Friday.

SAD FATALITY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A sad case of drowning is reported from Kildare. All the facts are that a man named Cahill was putting a pilot on board an incoming vessel, and through the capsizing of the canoe lost his life.

THE EDUCATION ACT DENOUNCED. (By Telegraph To-day.)

At the Evangelical Free Church meeting in Manchester to-day, Rev. R. F. Hortou, strongly denounced the Education Act.

WORKHOUSE CHILDREN IN CONVENT SCHOOLS.

Mr. Leonard, who recently gave notice at the Newcastle West Guardians to remove the workhouse children from the convent school, has withdrawn his resolution, and the children will attend as usual. It was stated at the previous meeting that a considerable number of parents and guardians objected to their children being sent to the Convent if the workhouse children went there, but though they were given every opportunity to attend the last board meeting and explain their objection, not a single one turned up. Monsignor Hallinan wrote that the objection was a matter of mere sentiment, and he was quite satisfied that no harm could come to the Convent children because of the presence of the workhouse children.

FOUND DROWNED AT BRUREE.

The dead body of a man named Cornelius O'Callaghan, aged 30, son of a farmer at Knockaunvodig, was found in the river at Bruree on Sunday morning. O'Callaghan was seen in the village on Saturday night.

POLICE MEN'S PERILS.

At the Police Court this morning John Sullivan Fitzgerald's Lane, was remanded for eight days on a charge of assaulting Sergeant Rogan and Constable West in Broad street last night. It was alleged that a crowd followed the police and stoned them.

Mr. O'Sullivan made a preliminary reference to the summons against McMahon on the ground that there was no evidence that any man had been served.

The Bench held that there was no proof of service, but Mr. O'Sullivan waived the point, and the merits of the case were gone into.

Evidence for the prosecution went to show that McMahon was in charge of three rods, a cot, which Ryan was paddling. Each of them had a rod license, and they also had a license for the third rod, which belonged to James Campbell.

Mr. O'Sullivan said it had been the practice from time immemorial that when there was a licence for every rod two men might use the rods.

Mr. Connihan read a notice issued by the Department of Agriculture, warning anglers that the practice was illegal.

Mr. O'Sullivan said his clients were prepared to swear they had never seen the notice. They had heard that a prosecution of a similar nature had been dismissed. He said they knew that a rod taken from Mr. Ryan had been given back.

Mr. J. P. Hall, J.P., said the Conservator gave back the rod because Mr. Ryan was a trawler. He would be in favour of inflicting a fine, and he asked Mr. Connihan to withdraw the summons.

Colonel Vincent said he was not anxious to inflict a fine.

Mr. O'Sullivan said Colonel Vincent, as an angler, must have seen the thing done some time.

Mr. Connihan refused to withdraw. Mr. O'Sullivan—You want your pound of flesh. I waived a point to meet you, but you won't do as the magistrates ask you.

A fine of £2 was inflicted on each defendant. Mr. Kelly, R.M., said they might try to put on a memorial.

At Doonias Petty Sessions Park, McNamara, James McNamara, John Joe Clancy, and Michael Clancy were fined £1 and costs each for using a snap net on the 1st February, 1905, at Quinns South, Co. Clare. Notice of appeal was given.

THE POPE'S DINNER PARTY.

A curious contravention of Papal etiquette took place after the consecration of the new Bishop of Bergamo the other day. The custom is that the Pope shall dine in solitary state, but his Holiness, instead, invited the new bishop to dinner. A compromise was arrived at, the master of ceremonies stipulating that the Pope should sit at a separate table raised on a small dais. There was a large number of guests, on whom the head butler, Sili, successor of Pio Centra waited, while Monsignor Bialotti, "maestro di camera," waited personally on the Pope.

THE FLETCHER CASE. (By Telegraph To-day.)

Mr. Pollock, one of the official referees of the High Court, to-day ordered Mrs. Ellen Fletcher, wife of Surgeon-General Fletcher, and her friend Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, to deliver up various sums of money and goods claimed by Mr. Leslie Morse, Accountant, as trustee of a deed of assignment executed by Mrs. Fletcher for the benefit of her creditors.

HARRIS'S MACHINE-MADE BREAD