The recently formed Dock Labourers' Society yesterday received one ton of coal as a present from the Mayor (Alderman Joyce, M.P.)

At the Newry Quarter Sessions yesterday, Mrs. Johnston, Rathfriland, was awarded £100 compensation for the loss of her son, who was killed in blasting operations in connection with the making of the new railway in that district.

Judge Curran heard an interesting case at Tullamore Quarter Sessions on Tuesday. A prize setter dog on its way to the Dublin Show escaped from the porters at Portarlinton, and was not recovered for some weeks. It had, since won two prizes, and the owner, Mr. R. Hanegan, now sued the railway company for £5 damages. His Honor dismissed the case.

At the Quarter Sessions, before his Honor Judge Adams, John Flavin, the Commercial Hotel, Castleconnell, sued Patrick Delaney, Railway Hotel, Castleconnell, for £10 damages for obstruction of a passage leading from plaintiff's yard to the public road, by building a wall partly across same. His Honor said he would see the the place on Sunday and give judgment in he case on Monday at Rathkeale.
