

ith a population
one pawnbroker
ped at Cincinnati
the building.
ferred to adopt
to the Lambeth
ular issued there
cient Order of
nds amount to

TIRE.
e generally looks much ability—
o man prays for
of the things we “broke.”
hich is fortunate
vely storm.
organ to find out

T. MARY'S

Rev. John A.
son the Bishop's Treasurer and
y the Very Rev.
on of Limerick,
ector Archdale,
a newly installed

CHARGES.

oration accounts ;
local Government
ption to a number ral heads. The
s to disbursements
nally, total about
st of half-holidays
like items.

L. STATE."

says :— Professor
Trinity College,
ouse of Commons
ant of the Peers'
solitary grandeur,
n of Spring Rice,
hancellor of the
the contest with movement. Lord
ister of Professor

COUNCIL

eting of the Glin
Tuesday; Mr. P.
presiding. Also Shanaghnessy, M.
Thomas Ruddle,
red contractor for advertised. The
leclared contractor
nt of the Council
Daniel Culhane
aking care of the
s. Mortimer Liston
rying the carcasses
eration of a report
ed till next meet-

ATE.

on of the Kilrush
d the dead body of sery. An inmate
d that it was hers,
but at the inquest
the child was born
h was neglect at its

ict in accordance
hat we should have

needy, stevedores, for the loss of her husband, Matthew Tyrrell, who was drowned while angling with defendant on the 4th February last.

Mr. Gaffney, sol., who appeared for the plaintiff, by direction of the judge read the section of the Act of Parliament under which he sought to make O'Shaughnessy liable.

The plaintiff stated that her husband had previous experience of fishing, and had been thus engaged with defendant previous to the day of the fatality. She was aware that Mr. O'Shaughnessy told him on the night of the 3rd to be down the following day to go fishing. The payment he generally received was £6 for the day and increased to 4s when they caught a salmon.

Michael Doran, who was also a member of the fishing party, said to his knowledge a contract was never entered into between defendant and Tyrrell. The latter used get the price of a drink at the conclusion of the day's outing. The boat was not taken to “the boil” on the day in question by directions of O'Shaughnessy.

Mr. Phelps, who appeared for the defendant, submitted that there was no responsibility on the part of his client, and if there was grounds for an action it might come under Lord Campbell's Act.

The defendant was examined, and denied the existence of a contract. The deceased generally worked for him as a quay hand at the boats. On the evening prior to the drowning he came to him and asked him if he was going fishing next day, and he said provided the day was fine he would.

His Honor said the plaintiff had failed on every ground. There was no contract, and what was given was given as a gratuity. Defendant had not the supervision of the boat, and on every phase of the case he should dismiss the action.

KILLALOE SLATE QUARRIES COMPANY.

Yesterday an extraordinary general meeting of the directors and shareholders of the Killaloe Slate Company, Ltd., was held in No. 36 College Green, for the purpose of receiving a report from the Committee of shareholders appointed at the recent annual general meeting of the Company to inquire into the working of the quarries and into the trading of the Company generally. Mr. Tuthill quoted figures which showed, in the aggregate, that since the formation of the present Board dividends amounting to £11,974 12s. 5d. had been paid, as against £330 for the previous ten half-years. In view of these figures he considered that the attack which had been made upon the directors at the last meeting was an unfair one.

The Committee in its report pointed out that that the wages bill of the Company exceeded that of 1904 by £632, although twenty men less were employed. The greater portion of the stock on hands consisted of small and irregular-sized slates difficult to sell without a proper canvass of orders. Of the stock on hands there was over £1,000 worth of small slates. No effort was being made to sell that stock by advertising or canvassing, and the Committee suggested that the Secretary be directed to take steps to dispose of it.

Several recommendations were made and it was resolved—"That the report be referred to the board, and that they be requested to take the matters therein referred to into their careful consideration."

CONSOLIDATION OF CITY DEBTS.

A meeting of the Special Committee of the Corporation relative to the question of the consolidating of city debts, and the issue of stock, was held on Tuesday afternoon. Ald. McNiese, locum tenens for the Mayor, occupied the chair, and there were also present—Councillors Dennelly, Bourke, O'Brien, and O'Mealy, with the Town Clerk, and the City Treasurer. Messrs. C. Croker, D.L., and Browne, Local Government Board Auditors, were present. The committee went into the matter fully, and being satisfied as to the financial benefit that would accrue to the city from the proposed consolidation of the existing loans and the floating of Corporate Stock (as suggested by the High Sheriff, on whose motion the matter came up in the Council), decided to recommend the Council to ask the Local Government Board to hold the necessary inquiry into the matter.

RAINFALL FOR MARCH, 1906.

The rainfall measured at St. Michael's School was 3.2 inches.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.

At the Final Organ Recital on Saturday afternoon next, Miss Dowd, Miss E. Stoney, and Mr. R. Evans will sing.

Peace,” was intoned, and as the coffin was being removed from the edifice the beautiful, yet solemn, strains of the Dead March in Saul pealed forth from the organ.

At the graveside the Right Rev. Dr. Brambury read the burial-service.

The chief mourners were J. Sutherland Matteson, William Matteson, Leo Matteson, and Harry Russell.

The clergy present were Right Rev. Dr. Bunbury, Dean O'Brien, Rev. R. Ross-Lewin, Rev. J. T. Waller, Rev. G. M. Luther.

Amongst the general public who attended or sent carriages were—A. W. Shaw, J.P.; J. Greene Barry, D.L.; R. Lunham, Cork; Sir Thomas H. Cleeve, D.L.; Sir Vincent Nash, D.L.; W. M. Beauchamp, George Bennett, B. Bennett, Mrs. O'Brien, Captain Verschoyle, J. N. Russell, J.P.; Archibald Murray, W. L. Stokes, J.P.; D. Tidmarsh, Earl of Limerick, J. J. Shine, S. Ebull, Jps. H. Wright, S. Cunningham, J. H. Shine, F. Atkinson, Belfast; R. Holliday, T. Brinn, J. Cooper, Andrew Murray, C. Croker, D.L.; F. C. Cleave, J. Boyd, J. F. Power, A. J. Barnett, Mrs. Gabbott, J. Hayes, T.C.; the City High Sheriff, Alderman O'Mara, T. Ryan, F.C.; S. E. Lee, J.P.; P. J. Lynch, C.E.; R. Lee, G. Ryan, C.E.; W. H. Lee, R.F.A.; M. D. Shaw, B. Gubbins, J. Ellis Goodbody, W. McDonnell, J.P.; E. G. Fitt, H. L. Stewart, J. Stack, James Perry Goodbody, Mrs. Enright, Castleconnell, and Mr. W. Euright, R. Brabazon, —O'Connor, Clelland, T. Hassett, E. F. Hickson, R.M.; G. Goodbody, L. Morley, F. J. Cleave, T. Ferguson, R. de Ros Rose, J.P.; W. Hunt, J.P.; E. D. Hunt, solicitor, R. Gibson, E. Kidd, A. Woodhouse, Dr. Laird, Dr. W. Fogerty, Major Gubina, Dr. Ryan, Castleconnell; J. J. Howley, S. Sullivan, H. Hassett, B. Leonard, J. H. Halliwell, F. G. M. Kennedy, J.P.; G. Owens, A. B. Hamilton, Waterford; E. Holliday, H. Earls, Dublin; C. Cunningham, P. Hamilton, W. Cunningham, W. H. Gullen, W. Gullen, junr.; H. Brisbane, W. Frye, solicitor, Dublin; J. Wilson, Liverpool; Sunner, Cork; M. Caffrey, A. Hall, J.P.; E. H. P. Hosford, J.P.; C. O. Jones, R. Rookby, M. Quade, —Martin, T. Grubb, —Bayliss, Cork; Thomas Ledger, J. T. Day, George Ledger, R. Harris, Martin Day, B. K. Lucas, R. Plummer, J. E. Murphy, A. J. Eatine, W. M. Nolan, M. G. Siade, C.E.; W. Barrington, C.E.; E. Collopy, J. Walby, Heaton Armstrong, J. Riddle, W. McDonnell, junr.; Dr. T. Gelston, C. H. Fitt, R. Ray, J. F. Bennis, M. Herriott, J. Wallace, W. O'Connell, C. Stockill, G. Barry, E. C. Winter, V.S.; P. A. Meehan, Dr. Shanahan, J. Watson, V.S.; W. McCarthy, J. V. Coogan, J. H. Roche, J.P.; J. Wheatsley, —DeCoursey, J. Morrow, D. Thompson, J. McNamara, T. Gilligan, A. Blood-Smyth, sol. J. Cantillon, E. Angley, the employees in the bacon factory Roche's street, and a posse of police under Head-Constable Moore. Altogether there were over 1,000 persons present at the interment, so that necessarily many names could not be obtained.

Owing to pressing engagements elsewhere the Venerable Archdeacon Wynne, the Rev. G. L. Swain, Rev. J. Dowd, Rev. R. H. Semple, T. Deane, Rathkale, and Coplen-Langford, J.P., Kilcoesgriff, were unable to attend.

There were no floral tributes by request.

SAD DEATHS IN LIMERICK.

YOUNG LIVES CUT SHORT.

It is our painful duty to-day to record an unusual number of sad deaths in our city, all of them of young people highly respected and affectionately and sincerely mourned.

MR. "JACK" FITZMAURICE.

Yesterday morning Mr. John Fitzmaurice (better known to frequenters of the theatre as “Jack”) stage carpenter at the Theatre Royal, died peacefully after an illness extending over only a short period. The cause of death was congestion of the lungs. “Jack,” though only about 34, had for the long period of 22 years been a faithful servant of the proprietor of the theatre, respected by all with whom he came in contact. Not only will his loss be lamented by his sorrowing parents, wife, and four young children, by his numerous acquaintances in the city, but also by those companies who on visiting the Theatre always found him an able, courteous, and willing helper. The funeral took place this afternoon at Mount St. Laurence, and poor “Jack’s” memory was honoured by a large assemblage, and touching messages of sympathy to the bereaved ones were conveyed by means of beautiful wreaths, and in other ways.

MISS LOUISA RIORDAN.

Another young life sadly ended is that of Miss Louis M. Riordan, which took place at Barrington's Hospital on Monday evening after a brief illness. Miss Riordan was a charming, amiable, and accomplished young lady, daughter of Mr. May 2nd.

a local authority concerned in any temporary interference with the waterway, and if so, whether they were willing to give consent in writing to such proposed temporary interference, and as the tender had to leave on Monday, the 20th March, they would be greatly obliged by their reply by return of post. As to the details of the scheme, it was pointed out that the eleven pilings upon which the bridge at present rests are to be substituted by four cylinders, and as the contract provided for the drawing out of the piles upon which the old bridge rested after they had put in the new bridge, and the new bridge provided for four feet additional head room above high-water level, the result should be a great improvement in the waterway. The new bridge is to go alongside the old one, and the only pilings they proposed to put in during the erection are the necessary piles put round the cylinders to protect and guide them as they are being sunk.

The Chairman asked was the new bridge to be above or below the present one.

Mr. M'Inerney—I asked the question of the Engineer yesterday. He stated he could not give me any definite information as to above or below, but he says the rails will go where the old ones are.

Mr. Fitt said that had nothing to say to it. They would be working at these four cylinders and putting them down before they take up the eleven there at present. That would practically block the river, and would mean a great obstruction and loss to the fisheries if the work was commenced before the 1st August. So it would be “sine qua non” that the Board would consent to nothing being done until the fishing season closed, and also that the work be carried on day and night so as to have it completed as speedily as possible.

Chairman—They want the long days.

Mr. McInerney said he asked what time the work would commence, and they said about a month, and that it would take ten months to carry out.

Mr. Fitt—That's too long.

Mr. McInerney—if they worked day and night it should be done in seven months.

The Chairman said if the work was above the present bridge Mr. M'Inerney would lose his season's fishing.

Mr. M'Inerney—Yes.

Mr. Ballingall proposed, and Mr. Twiss concurred the following resolution, which was unanimously passed:—“That the Secretary be instructed to reply to Messrs. Morton and Co. that this Board cannot consent to the proposed work being carried on until the expiration of the fishing season, 31st July, 1906, and that Messrs. P. McInerney, Blood-Smyth, and Fitt be appointed a Committee to deal with any question arising in connection with the matter between the meetings of the Board; and that the Secretary be instructed to communicate with the G. S. and W. B. Company for full details of the work.”

OBTAINING MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETENCES.

At the County Petty Sessions to-day, before Mr. Hickson, R.M., and Mr. John Ryan, Michael Quirke was charged with having obtained a sum of 10s. by means of false pretences from the Rev. Thomas Maher, C.O., Castleconnell, by representing that he was Mr. Tim Scanlan, of Kilcommon. Head Constable Moore, who prosecuted, stated that the accused had been living on his wife for some few years back. The accused was sentenced to a month's hard labour.

FISHERY BOARD.

The monthly meeting of the Limerick Fishery Conservators was held to-day, Mr. A. Blood-Smyth presiding. Also present—Captain Twiss, F. M. Fitt, P. McInerney, T. W. Sandes, J.P.; M. McDonnell.

Mr. E. H. Pee Hosford, Secretary, read the minutes of last meeting, which were signed.

AN OBSTRUCTION.

A communication was received from the Kilrush Urban Council enclosing a memorial from the fishermen at Kilrush complaining of an obstruction caused by the remains of a wreck on the foreshore at Moyroe.

The Chairman said the Board had nothing to say to it.

Mr. Fitt said the attention of the Receiver of Wrecks might be called to the matter.

The subject dropped.

Having disposed of the routine business, the Board adjourned.

The Ashton-under-Lyne Master Spinners Association has received notice from that district of the South East Lancashire Card and Blowing Room Operative Association asking for an advance of 5 per cent. in wages after May 2nd.