Last evening a child named Teresa Brummel, a five-year old daughter of a mechanic living in Arthur's Quay, was detained in Barrington's Hospital and treated for extensive burns to the face caused by the ignition of her clothes. This is the third case of burning, two having fatal consequences, that has occurred in the city during the past week.

A two year child named Christina Greene, Michael street, died at Barrington's Hospital yesterday, as the result of burns received by her clothes taking fire. At the inquest last evening, Norah Greene, the child's mother, told the Coroner (Mr. de Courcey) and the jury, that while absent from the house on Sunday for a few minutes the child must have gone close to the fire. Her attention was first called to the unfortunate incident by a man named Matthew Bourke, who occupies apartments in the same house. Dr. O'Donnell, surgeon at Barrington's, attributed death to shock consequent on burns, and the jury found a verdict accordingly, without attaching any blame to the mother, who it was stated was a very industrious woman.

Correspondence has passed between Mr. John Moloney, hon. secretary Limerick Evicted Tenants' Association, and the Chief Secretary regarding the position of evicted tenants. Mr. Moloney pointed out that the matter was most pressing and acute. It involved some 10,000 persons houseless and homeless. No Act of Parliament is required, but the mending and administering of the one in existence. Only 200 reinstatements took place after three years out of 4,000 cases, and he suggested the giving of compulsory powers to the Estates Commissioners to deal with the evicted. The grant of £250,000 should, he urges, be supplemented to set them up. Mr. Bryce has replied acknowledging its receipt.

A wide circle of friends in Limerick and Clare have heard with deep regret of the death of a well-known and highly respected gentleman, Mr Charles Heaton-Armstrong, which took place on Sunday at his residence, 79 George street. Mr. Heaton-Armstrong, who was in the 75th year of his age, was a familiar personality in the city. He was a gentleman of fine physique and of a most kindly and courteous manner. For some time past, however, he was in failing health, but it was only within the past three weeks that his illness assumed a critical turn, and it was feared towards the close of the past week that the end was approaching. The deceased gentleman was connected with several of the leading families of Clare and Tipperary, amongst them the Heaton-Armstrongs of Farny Castle, and Mount-Heaton, and it may be remembered he assumed the additional name of Heaton in 1884.

There is evidently a run of big salmon in the river, judging by the captures we recorded in our last issue as having been made at Castleconnell and Limerick. Again, on Saturday afternoon a fine fish, scaling 34 pounds, was landed by Mr. John Boyd near Athlunkard Bridge. Net fishing about Limerick has also, we understand, been encouraging so far, and now that the floods in the river are diminishing,
