CONCERT AT HOSPITAL.

A very successful and well attended concert was given in the Parochial Hall, Hospital, Sunday night. The conductor, Mr. James Roche, submitted an excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music, which was heartily applauded. Amongst the talented contributors were—Miss L. O'Halloran, Miss M. McGoan, Messrs J. T. O'Kelly, James O'Keefe, Frank Roche, M. Enright (Castletown) and John Roche, and several other. Mr. James Roche performed the duties of conductor in a very creditable manner, and was heard in a violin solo with great pleasure. The concert concluded with a farce, performed by the pupils of the Presentation Convent, H
