"WORK" FOR WOMEN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.
 SIR,—I notice an advertisement for girls to learn baking and confectionery. Can someone tell me what we are coming to? Hadn't we better have a change all round? Couldn't some women try coalheaving or bricklaying, for instance?—Yours, etc,

PRIVATE BANKING.

JUDGE ADAMS'S IMPORTANT SUGGESTION.

Yesterday his Honor Judge Adams heard an application made by Mr. C. O'Donnell, solr., for a committal order on behalf of Wm. Humphreys.
 A decree had been already obtained for £8 10s. 6d., being amount due for money lent.
 His Honor said that this case involved a very serious question. The plaintiff, who was highly respectable, and carried on his business in a perfectly open and honorable manner—in fact, to call him a private banker would be quite correct—has a claim for this money, and his Honor thought it would be wise to the point to term it the case of a private banker. A very serious question arose, and Judge Carton recently contributed an article to an English publication drawing attention to certain defects of the operations of this class, under which this case was brought, and which again made possible impositions for debt which the Act of Parliament intended to abolish.
 He could not remember any of the banks ever having a defendant committed for debt, but whose a heavy rate of interest was charged, he would not grant a committal order. His Honor niled the case, and suggested that an appeal to the Judge of Assize might be taken to determine the point.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HOURIGAN

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hourigan, of Marree, a lady who was highly and deservedly esteemed, took place from the parish church, Marree, on Monday, a very large concourse of clergy being present at the High Mass in the church.
 The chief mourners were—Rev. P. Hourigan, St. Mary's, Glasgow; Rev. Patrick Ryan, St.
 Luke's, Glasgow; Rev. Daniel Hourigan, St.
 Anne's, Birmingham; Rev. Michael Hourigan,
 C.O., Galbally; John Hourigan, R. Hourigan, Thomas Hourigan, Samonn Ryan, Patrick Fitzgerald, William Nicholas, Patrick Nicholas, Patrick Ryan, John Frost.
 The funeral was very large and representative, all classes in the surrounding district attending as a mark of respect for one who was much beloved and regretted.

of the contracting parties.

THE NATIONAL TEACHERS

A meeting of the Limerick National School Teachers will be held at the Town Hall at 12 noon, on Friday, 23rd inst., in reference to the pension question and also the question of primary education in Ireland.

STEAM ROLLING IT WEST LIMERICK.

The unrolled portion of the road between Scale Bridge and Abbeyfeale, is now being rolled, and it may be mentioned that a continuation of the process on this district route between Limerick and Killarny would be gladly welcomed by tourists.

CATTLE RATES VIA FISHGUARD.

The G. W. Railway Company have written to the South of Ireland Cattle Trade Association, stating that their rates for live stock via Rosetta and Fishguard have not yet been struck, but that the question is involving the careful consideration of the company's officers, and when arrangements are completed with the Great Southern and Western Railway the rates will be issued in due course.
 The Committee hoped that this information will soon be placed at the disposal of their members.

SEPTEMBER WEATHER

The weather report at Hardicestown, Broadford, Co. Clare, for September, 1906, shows the total rainfall for the month was 1.35 inches, being 1.41 ins., under the September average here for 21 years, the number of rainy days was 11, being 6 under the average for the same time. Total amount of rain so far this year—26.29 ins., and the number of rainy days—168. Total amount of cloud 459 a.m., (9 to 10)—168. Average temperature (night and day)—55.06 degs, being 3

A BANKRUPT IRISH LANDLORD

In the London Bankruptcy Court on Tuesday the public examination was concluded of Sir Thos. Johnston-Dance, Bart., late of St James's place, London. The debtor, on his father's death, succeeded to property at Modrany, Gloughjordan, Co. Tipperary, and other funds which brought him an income of £1,700 a year.
 This ceased in 1905, and since then he had no regular occupation, and was dependant on voluntary allowances from his friends. An arrangement had been laid before the creditors providing for the payment of 15s. in the £ to them pro rata, the necessary funds having been provided by a relative.
 The bankrupt attributed his failure to his household and personal expenditure exceeding his income.
