LIMERICK QUARTER SESSIONS.

The Easter Quarter Sessions for the city of Limerick were opened this afternoon by his Honor Judge Adams, who was presented with a pair of white gloves by the High Sheriff, there being no criminal business for disposal. His Honor, in reply, congratulated the High Sheriff on his accession to office, thanked him for the presentation, and said there was no criminal business in the county either. When His Honor came there twelve years ago he started the doctrine that nothing could be more useful than to be lenient in dealing with criminals. He was glad to say—although he supposed he should be sorry—it proved a complete failure, for now they had no criminal business to deal with (laughter). The licensing business was then proceeded with.

GLIN DISTRICT SCHOOLS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The manual school established twelve months since in connection with the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction at Glin continues to give splendid results. The report of the examination held on 23rd January last by Mr. O'Sullivan, Inspector of the Department, has just been received, showing the award of "Excellent"—the highest obtainable has been granted.

In the primary days also the free-hand drawing classes have also secured the award of "Excellent," and have been granted 12 certificates. The Rev. Brother M. C. Shanahan is to be congratulated on the success achieved by his pupils in both.

DEATH OF MRS. MAHER.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Maher, a highly respected lady, which occurred at her late residence, Kilsely Villa, on Saturday. Mrs. Maher was mother of the Rev. Fr. Maher, O.F.M., who was for some time Prior of the Franciscan Church, Henry Street, and of Dr. Maher, London. To her numerous friends and relatives the sincerest sympathy is tendered in the loss they have sustained in the person of one whose life was so exemplary. The funeral took place this morning.

THE WEATHER.

While there is not a great deal of March dust about up to the present, bitter though seasonable weather prevails. A cutting north-easterly wind reminds us that March is going out like a lion though it came in in something the same way. The harsh breeze, while unpleasant and undesirable in many ways, has at the same time been of advantage to fishing as it has had the effect of reducing the floods in the river considerably. Net fishing around Limerick, we learn, has been very good for the past week or so, many
