Mellon summoned for threatening to shoot one, Jack Lynch with a gun, and then and there fired a shot, and on the 25th Sept., threatened to blow Jack Lynch's brains out.

The magistrate deferred the case for three months to see how Nestor would conduct himself. Mr. Waller warned Nestor to take care of himself, and no matter whether inside or outside of Mellon, he was not justified in threatening any person with fire arms.

D. AND D.

Maurice Howard, John McEwan, John Hagan and Joe Doneghey were fined, the two former £6d. each or a week, the latter 5s. each, for being drunk and disorderly.

WILL CONDUCTED LICENSES.

There being no complaint against any of the applicants, the certificates were all signed. Adjourned.

MEALS BETWEEN MEALS

Everyone knows that mild appetite between meals. You don't want to spoil the next meal by eating too much, but must have something. A cold, hot, tasty snack is just what you want. A slice of Uarrant Bread (White or Hovis), cut thin, then plain or toasted, with butter or cheese, will satisfy you. There is no more wholesome and nutritious food than Current Bread.

DEATH OF MRS. REYNOLDS

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Reynolds, wife of the captain of the brigantine "Artemis," which took place on Thursday evening. The deceased lady, who had been ill for some months, after undergoing a dangerous operation, was daughter of Mr. Morgan, a marine ex-Harbour Master, at whose residence she passed away, in the full vigour of manhood, leaving a husband and two little children to mourn her loss. She was possessed of a kindly manner, and by her family and many friends her death will be deeply deplored.

DEATHS AT BALLINGARRY

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

At the early age of 19 years, the demise of Miss M. O'Mahony took place at the home of her mother, in Ballingarry, on Sunday last, the funeral to Shanavagh Cemetery on Tuesday, and which included the parish clergy, was very large.

Sincere regret is felt at the death of Mr. Daniel Russell, Coalcrea, Knockhill, which took place on Monday. His native district of Brucefield, a good friend gone. The deceased gentleman, who was brother of Rev. Edward Russell, P.P., Parteen, was interred at Brucefield.
