At the annual meeting of the Irish Central Veterinary Medical Association in Dublin, Mr.
E. C. Winter, Limerick, was appointed President for the ensuing year.

Mr. J. Devlin, returned for two constituencies, yesterday elected to sit for West Belfast ; and Mr. P. A. M'Hugh, similarly circumstanced, elected to sit for North Sligo.

A mad bull created intense excitement in one of the main streets of Belfast yesterday afternoon, and succeeded in holding up the electric tram service for half an hour. Finally a policeman cautiously approached the animal, mounted on a tramcar and shot it dead. The bullet, after crashing clean through the animal's skull, passed so closely across the body of an onlooker that it cut a button off his overcoat and finally

The school exhibition of needlework will be held on the above days in the first floor room
