OBITUARY.

Miss Hanoria Quaid.

The deeply lamented demise of Miss Hanoria Quaid at the good old age of 78 years, took place on Thursday at her residence, Ballykenedy, Ballygarry, to the great grief of her many and highly esteemed relations, a large circle of friends and sympathisers. The deceased lady came of one of the oldest and most respected families in the County of Limerick. Was sister of the late Very Rev. David Quaid, P.P., Dromin; Very Rev. Edward Quaid, P.P., Dublin; Mr. George N. Quaid, Ballykenedy House, Ballygarry; and aunt of Mr. John J. Quaid, County Council Office; Mr. G. Quaid, C.P.S., Dromcollogher, and Mr. William Quaid, Ballykenedy House. The funeral took place yesterday at Clonsagh Cemetery.

Mr. Robert Moorehead.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Robert Moorehead, which sad event took place at his residence, Osmington Terrace, Thomondgate, on Tuesday. Deceased was a member of an old Limerick family, and highly respected by all who knew him. The funeral took place at St. Munchin's to-day, a report of which we are reluctantly obliged to hold over till our next issue.

Mrs. Crosbie.

We regret to announce the death, at an advanced age, of Mrs. Crosbie, widow of the late Mr. Thomas Crosbie, the well-known and popular proprietor of the "Cork Examiner," and in his time one of the leading journalists of the United Kingdom.

Rev. Mother Patrick.

The death has occurred at the Ursuline Convent, Thurles, of Mother Patrick, who was a member of the teaching staff attached to St. Angela's Academy.

Mrs. Mansergh.

By the death of Mrs. Mansergh, wife of Major Mansergh, Rocksavage, which occurred on Tuesday, the poor people in the vicinity have through her demise suffered an irreparable loss. The greatest sympathy is felt for Major Mansergh, as he, too, has been prominent in doing his utmost to alleviate the wants and sufferings of the poor.

Sir Arthur Brooke.

Sir Arthur Douglas Brooke, Bart., of Colebrook Park, Brookeborough, Fermanagh, died yesterday morning, aged 42.

Mr. A. M. Alsop.

The sole surviving trustee of the famous Milleclose Lead Mines of Matlock, Mr. A. M. Alsop, died yesterday at an advanced age.

Lord Battersea.

Lord Battersea died yesterday morning at Ryde.
