THE SUGAR TAX.

The deputation representing the mineral water trade of the United Kingdom yesterday waited on Mr. Asquith at the House of Commons to request him to abolish the sugar tax. They asserted the tax was killing their trade. Mr. Asquith, without giving any promise that he would or would not deal with the sugar duties in the next Budget, undertook to seriously consider the arguments addressed to him by the deputation.

STREET CLEANSING SCHEME.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.

DEAR MR. EDITOR—I see that an offer is made by Mr. Dillon, contractor, to take over the cleansing and repairing of the streets of our town on contract from the Corporation for £7,500 per annum, which offer was before a Whole House Committee on same evening, considered, submitted to the Cleansing Committee.

Surely, Mr. Editor, if our Borough Council regard this offer in a serious light, they will invite tenders for the work of cleansing, paving, and maintaining, and give any one desiring of tendering a chance of competing for the work leaving themselves open to accept the lowest or any tender.

I am, my dear, Mr. Editor, yours faithfully,
A CITIZEN.

Second Lieutenants G. O'Grady and E. L. Phelps, South of Ireland Imperial Yeomanry, will join the class which opens at the Cavalry School, Netheravon, on the 1st March.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

A show of brood mares in connection with the scheme promoted by the County Committee of Agriculture, was held yesterday at Glin. The display was very fine, there being on exhibition a splendid lot of animals. Mr. Hartigan, Secretary County Committee of Agriculture; Mr. Clarke, Navan, Judge, and Mr. Power, V.S., Tipperary, were in attendance.
