unsel, and said the feeling was 1 over the occurrence. At the ent he was threat ned to be 18 village.

, the applicant (examined), deposed his wife were booted in the said there was a sale of an estate sh, and the villagers got plots of in thought he, too, though only a as entitled to a plot sizo. nt was examined by Mr. kelly. oberty was examined, and stated the occurrence to be malicious, he believed the Rector was subject yance. He was aware of a man o the peace over the disturbances. said hey had it in evidence that and Mrs. Bentley were hooted in Cahirconlish. They had it from himself be was beeted on nine n was examined as to value ey, B.E., for the District Council. be took the dimensions of the rere 63,000 cubic feeb. He estimated was £571. His total valuation of said there was only a pretence of the case. This was one of the the settlement of the land question ed to them, for there had been the lands of Caherconlish for years, and it appeared some wery indignant that Coghlan did are. The trouble had died out and ped this would be the end of it ease, Mr. Bentley did noching but he duties that were entrusted to higious body to which he belonged. h no hestility and committed no t was a terrible thing to burn down in that way. He was a very o honest man, and had been put to His Honor could not give him less mpensation.

ded that the amount be levied off large.

RDAY'S BUSINESS.

Land Cases.

Judge Adams resumed he business y Quarter Sessions at 11 o'clock then land and equity cases were His Honor was stiended on the r. Joseph O'Malley, C.E., Court tives of Mrs. Watson, landlord ;

James Toohey, tenant.

which are situate at Cloon and optain 3a. Ir. 3o.; rent, £3.

Kenny, solr., appeared for the od Mr. R. Frost, solr., for the dication of solicitor for the tenant, adjourned to next Sessions. Heron, landlord; Daniel O'Brien.

Kilbreedy, tenant.
16p., rent £6 6s., on one holding;
rent £35, on a second, and rent £6 10s. on the third. The he three holdings was returned at solicitor, Cork, appeared for the Mr. J. Binchy, solicitor, for the ALLEGED SERIOUS ASSAULT.

Two young men named John and Richard Collins, of Knocknesna, were charged or remand ab a special court at Abbeyfeale, before Messrs. J. W. Flanagan, and W. C. Hartnett, with having caused serious ir j .- y to a farmer named John D. G'Connor, of Port, on Christmas Eve.

Dr. McCarthy deposed that O'Connor sustained a fracture of one of the legs, but his life was not in immediate danger.

Mr. J. McCoy, D.I., presecuted. and Mr. D.

Leaby, solr. defended.

Accused were returned for trial to the Quarter Bassions.

FUNERAL OF MISS CORNEILLE

The funeral of Miss Corneille, whose sad death it was our painful duty to announce in a previous issue, took place on the 2nd inst at Adare Abbey, and was largely attended by relatives, friends, and neighbours Berrice was held in Adare Church by the Rev. H. Orien (Bector), and the Dean of Limerick, who in his address, spoke of the gentle and kindly diposition of his deeply regretted friend, whom he position of his deeply regretted friend, whom he had known so well, and whose help he had so kindly valued during the many years he was rector of the parish. The chief mouraers were:—Mr B. Corneille (brother, Mrs. Switzer (sister), Mr. T. Switzer (brother, in law), Mrs. Ruttle and Mrs. J. Corneille (aunts), Miss Foley and Messrs. W. Ruttle, J. Corneille Shier and C. Shier Corneille, A. Shier, J. Shier, and G. Shier cousins). The wreaths, which were choice and numerous bore the following inscriptions:"To my sarling sister, from Ben"; "With heartfelt sorrow, from Emily and Tom"; "In deepest regret for a beloved consin, from Maggie and Jay"; "With dearest love, from Kathleen and Biman"; "With fond love, from Nonne and Charlie"; "With deepest sympathy, from Alys and Sam"; "In loying remembrance, from F. Delmege"; "With deep sympathy, from L. and R. Manson"; "With sincere sympathy, from the employees of Corneille and Co.

THREE-COLOUR PRINTING

"Done in Ireland."

The artistic calendar produced by Mesers. W. and G. Baird, Ltd., Belfast, demonstrates the fact that there is no necessity to go out of Ireland for the most beautiful specimens of the colour printer's art. The picture given is that of the lighthouse at Rathlin Head, Rathlin Island, on the cliffs which rise from the sea to a height of 200 feet. The "blocks" for the picture were produced from a photograph, engraved and printed in the three beautifully graded and harmonised colonis, on the premises at Belfast. The picture is quite artistic, the tone being beautiful, and the light and shade on sea, rock, and sky, with the white-crested waves breaking at the foot of the cliff, being equal to any oil painting. Those who require such work -which not many houses in the United Kingdom can produce—might remember that it can be done, and done exquisitely, by the firm which sends out so beautiful a production as an advertisement for the "Belfest Evening Telegraph," one of the best of the many "exchanges ten inches from each other with a serried row of perpendicular linking the bands together. These or coats are high in favour, say paper, with Frenchwomen just no what sallow complexion being ton "flattered" by the dark soft shado on the velvet, pansy, russet, or me colours which most women are aw beneficially on the complexion as a ance is concerned, and produce a when worn, than all lotions and existence.

WOMAN-MADE PEER

Mr. Zangwill's remark at the meeting of the Men's League Suffrage, that he saw no reason w should not "precipitate her husbs abould not "precipitate her husbs that this has frequently happened in Dugdale's "Summons to Pas read that "Ralphe de Monthermer, sied Joane of Acre, daughter of Ki and widow of Gilbert de Clare, Ea and widow of Gilbert de Clare, Ester and Hertford... had summo ment by the title of Earl of Giouce ford. But after her death he never and was summoned to Barliament only." At an earlier period the laboraries conferred her title on the successively, while "Isohel of Giwise made her two husbands Earls, many other like cases, including Marshall. who, marrying the Cour Marshall, who, marrying the Coup wick, Margaret de Newburgh, kee Warwick, "jure uxoria."

JEWELLED COMBS FOR THE

The coiffure decorations in the s very effective display. Butterflies o soiseshell, ornamented with precion precious stones, are offered in the r array. Large bow-knots, made another attraction, together with combs and barettes to match. Neve been more artistically designed, a bune, and the workmanship in som quite wonderful. From the single o tion shell to the gold-mounted peomb they are all well proportic signed. Pink cameos and inlays are among the newest ideas, but kind of precious and semi-precious ployed to make these combs atta plain, hand-carved comb of real always retains its popularity, and co to match are worn during the day the evening the jewel-set, delic barette of gold classes the hair at the of hairpine of tortoiseshell, with a heads, are being offered in some These hairpins, with large round thrust through the hair when it is Mercury wings are a favourite hation, and they look equally well on hair. The designs made of gold find bound with satin, are very charactery wings of tartoiseshell, fines of the winds winds of tartoiseshell, f mercury wings of tortosesnes, a lines of the wired wings of tulle or parent materials, are a new idea w to be popular.

LATEST IN PARIS EVENING

To be neatly and smartly shod i ambitions of every well-dressed w gaiety, such coquettishness as is fashionable foot-wear! The frirolog daintiness of a century past has r modernised form, and extravagance per, buckle, or boot runs rampant, of the elaborate stockings that must supplement them. There is a delu tion that is, however, handled wi and remement as never to approx or pretentious. Very fascinating ar shoes in coloured tissue in beautil pink, blue, and green, which are at such exceedingly moderate pri