WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage took place on the 16th instant at St. Joseph's R.C. Church of Mr. Jack Hall and Miss Jane Brinn, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. Father Devane, C.C. Mr. Hall is an ex-champion sculler of Ireland, and is otherwise well and most popularly known in rowing circles, and both he and his bride have the felicitations of a very wide circle of friends in the city and elsewhere. The bridesmaids were Miss Katie Brinn and Miss Maggie Wright, and Mr. John Brinn was best man. A large number of friends of the happy pair were present at the wedding, which was a very pretty one, and later on in the day Mr. and Mrs. Hall left town for Dublin on their honeymoon trip. The presents were very numerous and costly. The many friends of Mr. Hall will be glad to learn that he has secured an important engagement as Singapore, for which destination he and his bride will sail at the end of the month, and they will carry with them the heartiest wishes of their friends for a bright and happy future abroad.

CITY CHILD SEVERELY SCALDED.

Yesterday afternoon George Pennington, 2, whose parents live in Carey's Road, was taken to Barrington's Hospital suffering from severe injuries to the abdomen and thigh. It appears that the child accidentally fell into a vessel of hot water in the kitchen. Having been attended to, the little fellow was detained, and so far very little hope is entertained of his recovery.

THE LATE MRS. WILLIS.

On Wednesday last the funeral took place of Mrs. Willis, relict of the late Rev. Thomas Willis, Rural Dean and Rector of Killeedy, County Limerick, Prebendary and Canon of Limerick Cathedral. She was also the last surviving daughter of the late George Gough Gubbias, Esq. of Maidstown Castle and Uregare, in the same county. Born in 1815—a month before Waterloo—the venerable lady was consequently in her 94th year, and had lived under five Sovereigns. She had a wonderfully retentive memory, and could recall many incidents connected with the Rockites, the Tithe war, the Repeal movement, and the terrible Famine of 1847. Mr. Willis died in 1879, and since that time the subject of this notice made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Francis Petrie, in Gloucester Walk, London W., which eventually became a rendezvous for their Irish friends in general, and those from Limerick County in particular, where they ever found a hearty welcome. Up to within a few months of her demise she enjoyed remarkable health, energy, and spirits, entering into everything with the greatest zest. Mrs. Willis also identified herself with many charities, and by the poor in her immediate neighbourhood will be greatly missed. She sent out last Christmas over 2,000 little Lavender-bags with texts of scripture to sailors and soldiers in hospital, and expected this coming Christmas to send 4,000. The first portion of the burial service was held at the Parish Church of St. Mary Abbots, Kensington, and the concluding part at the cemetery adjoining Hayes (Cranmer's) Church, where the deceased lady was interred. The Rev. N. Willis (nephew) officiated on both occasions. A large number of Mrs. Willis' near relatives, of whom a considerable number reside in or near London, were present at the graveside. Five of her brothers and sister's children followed the remains. The hymns, chosen by herself, were "For Ever With the Lord" and "Rock of Ages."

LECTURE ON ESPERANTO.

The L.P.Y.M.A. has been fortunate enough to arrange with Dr. J. C. O'Connor, of the Central Esperanto Institute in London, to deliver a lecture, with blackboard illustrations, in their Lecture Hall on the 9th October. The aims, the principles, and the history of the new International language, now rapidly growing in favour, will be adequately set forth by Dr. O'Connor, who is an Irishman, and the author of some of the standard works on Esperanto.

A FATAL FALL.

James Halpin, 70, of Little Wellesley Place, was taken to Barrington's Hospital in the Corporation ambulance last night suffering from a lacerated wound over the left side of the skull. He was walking down Cecil street at 10 o'clock when he tripped and fell heavily. Some passers-by picked him up, and half an hour after admission to hospital he died. The House Surgeon, Dr. Nunan, who attended him, attributes death to heart failure, and the Coroner having been communicated with, did not consider an enquiry necessary. It is stated that the deceased had been ailing of late, and was confined to bed up to a week ago.
