

NABLE WEDDING. SAD FATALITY IN THE CITY of the week in Dublin was that of the late Mrs. Stacpoole-Mahon, of Corbally. The ceremony was solemnised at St. Stephen's Church on the 21st. The officiating clergyman was the Bishop of Killaloe, assisted by the Rev. Stewart, M.A., rector of the parish. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely Empire coloured crepe-de-chine with panels of delicate embroidery, transparent yoke and finely tucked net, and picture hat with natural ostrich feathers. She carried a bunch of lilies of the valley in her hand. After the ceremony a reception was held at the hotel, and later in the day the bride and groom left for London, en route for which the bride wore a very smart brown cloth coat and skirt, cream lace shawl, and brown hat trimmed with white wings.

The guests included Lady Inchiquin, dressed in white cloth, with cream lace and a cream straw hat trimmed with white chiffon and feathers; the lady Beatrice O'Brien wore a white costume, white hat trimmed with white feathers. Miss Mahon wore a becoming black and white costume, black satin jacket and skirt, black satin hat trimmed with pink roses. The bride wore a blue cloth coat and white hat trimmed with black and white feathers. Mrs. Russell was becomingly dressed in white, black erinoline hat with yellow roses and ospreys. Her daughter, Miss Inez Russell, wore white serge and silk, trimmed with white silk braid, hat trimmed with marguerettes and white feathers.

Mrs. Joseph Blood looked well in a velvet and hat to match trimmed with white pansies. Mrs. C. H. Blood was in a graceful Empire gown of white and pink silk, hat trimmed with pink roses and white feathers. Mrs. Macnamara, Ennistymon wore a handsome costume of pale grey and black. The Misses Macnamara were gowned in pink and blue cloth. The bridesmaids wore navy blue cloth trimmed with white braiding. Mrs. H. Dudgeon wore a blue cloth costume and hat to match. The wedding was supplied by Buzzard.

The wedding presents is as follows:—

- Lady Inchiquin, silver mounted
- Miss G. Mahon, and Mr. Bryan, silver backed brushes.
- Lady Beatrice O'Brien, silver tea set.
- Mrs. Merriman, gold chain bag set with diamonds.
- Lady Dunboyne, out glass and ottoman.
- Lady Heytesbury, silver ink stand.
- Lady Heytesbury, old silver box.
- Miss Daly, silver and tortoiseshell box.
- Miss Fitzgerald, a fan.
- Miss, an umbrella.
- Miss Crowe, silver tortoiseshell box.
- Stopford Ram, silver backed comb.

Little Boy Killed.

A very sad fatality occurred in Upper Clare Street yesterday evening. It would appear that at about five o'clock a little boy named William Moore, aged four years, second son of Charles Moore, law clerk, and secretary of the United Carmen's Society, was standing in the road opposite his own house, when a country car passed along. It is alleged that the driver looked back at a musician, and the wheel of the car struck the child, and he died almost instantaneously. The father of the boy pursued the driver on his bicycle, and he was arrested by Acting-Sergeant Conroy. His name is John Clifford, farmer, living at Cloncallon, County Tipperary. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Moore and his family in their keen sorrow.

INQUEST.

Verdict of Accidental Death.

Mr. M. DeCoursey, City Coroner, and a jury of which Mr. Thomas Dillon was foreman, held an inquest at Pennywell this afternoon touching the death of the boy.

District Inspector White represented the Constabulary.

Mr. M. D. McCoy, solr., appeared for the father of the boy, and Mr. J. A. Doyle, solr., represented John Clifford, who was present, and stands charged with causing young Moore's death.

The first witness examined was Charles Moore, who stated that he returned home at 5 o'clock after business. He was informed of the fatality and immediately went in pursuit of Clifford, who was then on Park Hill, expostulating with two women regarding the accident. The women said that Clifford was the man whose cart killed the child, and witness asked him for his name, but he would not give it. He also refused to go to the police station. In the meantime Acting-Sergeant Conroy arrived and took him into custody.

Denis Murphy (11) stated he remembered about 5 o'clock last evening, he was at Mr. Skehan's publichouse listening to a man playing a cornet. He saw a horse and cart with a man in it coming from the direction of the city. The horse was in full trot, and then he saw the cart knock down the child William Moore, and pass over his stomach. At the time the child was opposite his own door. Witness picked up the deceased, and shouted after the man who paid no heed to him. Witness identified John Clifford as the man who was in charge of the horse and cart.

Mr. McCoy—Do you remember what the man was doing at the time the cart passed over the child? I could understand that he had something like tobacco in his hand, and he was looking at the cornet player.

Mr. McCoy—Was it bright at the time?

Yes. It was about 5 o'clock? Yes. And the fatality could have been avoided if

TO-DAY'S SPEC

Sandown Mee

CHERTSEY SELLING

Adansi
Flaxfield
Royal Rouge

8 ran.
Betting—7 to 4 agst Flaxfield
10 to 1 Royal Rouge.

PARK HANDIC

Veglo
Sweet Cecil
Snuff

11 ran.
Betting : 7 to 4 agst Veglo, 10