AGE PENSIONS ACT.

Garry Sub-Committee.

A meeting of the above was held on Thursday evening in the Cornhouse, Ballingarry, Rev. J. J. O'Shaughnessy, U.C. Chairman, presiding. The members present were Rev. J. O'Shaughnessy; Rev. W. J. Murnaghan, P.P.; Messrs. J. J. O'Shaughnessy and M. O'Shaughnessy.

ment that the estimate for the coming year for that institution and the auxiliary asylum at Youghal was £45,420, against £46,323. There were 2,012 patients in both asylums, and in Cork there were 48 more than twelve months ago. The cost per head in Cork, which was £27 7s. in 1901, was reduced to £23 17s. 6d. last year.

On Tuesday, while the 450 passenger train from Limerick to Tuam was travelling between the latter station and Ballyglunin (county Galway), a large stone was hurled from one of the bridges. It struck the spectacle of the engine smashing the glass. The fireman and engine driver escaped, but Mr. Mannix, Inspector of the Locomotive Department, who was on the foot plate, narrowly missed injury from the flying glass. The police are making inquiries.

The Knight of Glin and a party of friends shot over Glin demesne preserves yesterday. The weather was fine, and birds (woodcock) are plentiful and in good condition.

At Kilmallock Petty Sessions before Messrs T. W. Bennett, John Carroll, and John Fleming, Mr. John O'Brien was charged with a breach of the Licensing Laws. The defence was that the parties found on the premises had been invited. The case was dismissed on the merits.

DEATH OF MR. EDWARD WILLIAM O'BRIEN, D.L.

We regret extremely to record the death of a highly respected County Limerick gentleman, Mr. Edward William O'Brien, D.L., which took place at his London residence, 24 Roland Gardens, on Thursday last. Mr. O'Brien was the eldest son of William Smith O'Brien, of Cahermoyle, and brother of the late Mr. O'Brien. The deceased gentleman, who was in his 71st year, was for a long span of years intimately bound up with the affairs of the county. He had a distinguished career in Trinity College, Dublin, and in succeeding to his extensive estates on the county settled down at Cahermoyle, and took the deepest interest in the working of the Poor Laws, being an active and popular member of Newcastle-west and Rathkeme Unions. He also frequently served on the County Grand Jury, where his intimate knowledge of local affairs, and district requirements proved of great value. He was a Deputy Lieutenant, and a Magistrate for the County. In railway matters he took an active part, being Chairman of the North Kerry Company for many years. Mr. O'Brien was a most courteous and kindly gentleman, and enjoyed the highest esteem and respect of the people of West Limerick amongst whom he resided pretty constantly up to ten or twelve years ago. Since then, owing to ill-health, he had been a good deal abroad, and some 4 years ago met with a fall from a bicycle from which he never really recovered. The news of his death will be received with the deepest regret in West Limerick. He is succeeded in the estates by his eldest son, Mr. Dermot O'Brien.

The funeral is to take place at Rathronan Church, Ardagh, on Monday at twelve o'clock.

HEALTH LECTURES.

Fourth Address.

Miss Constance Fletcher, Lecturer to the Women's National Health Association of Ireland, continued her addresses on Hygiene in the Athenaeum on Thursday, when the theme under consideration was "Home Nursing." In her remarks the learned lecturer evidence, he would ask that the accused returned for trial.

Evidence was then called and went that three orders were taken from the office of the General Post Office, Lower Cecil on the 8th instant. Early that day, Mr. chief clerk in the Post Office, had seen the defendants in the office, and put up in the afternoon when Mr. G. O. Bak relieving Mr. J. Cabel he missed the order reported the matter to a senior official, the police were put in motion. On two of the orders were presented for at Patrickswell by Margaret Neiland Rutland Street by Doherty, but pay refused, owing to their being unsigned stamped. On the testimony of Head Moore, the women, Adams and Melmitted burning the missing order John's Cathedral.

Mr. J. H. Moran, solicitor, appeared Treacys, and submitted that the charging had not been sustained against the

Mr. Hinkton remarked that this was had a case as it appeared at first, and so, the Post Office authorities did not They did not look upon these as negotiable, and that being so, it was offence, which resolved itself into one to be dealt with summarily. He suggested the elder defendants be bound over, and others be treated as first offenders.

Head Constable Moore said that no worse characters in the city than girls.

District Inspector White—They are on the streets.

Mr. Moran suggested that though the father of these boys, should be on his own recognizances.

The Mayor—Very well.

The Bench decided to discharge Neiland, Timothy Treacy, and Michael and bound the others over in a penalty of £5 each, and two of £2 10s, or 1 month's imprisonment.

WATER IN BUTTER.
Ellen Sexton, Broad-street, was exposing for sale butter containing percentage of water.

Mr. W. Dundon, solicitor, appeared Corporation, who prosecuted, and given by Mr. Forrest as to the pound of butter from the defective certificate of the public analyst the sample forwarded contained 20.3 water, whereas the standard was 18.

Mr. Moran, solicitor, who appeared defendant, submitted that the case had been complied with, inasmuch as been hung in the shop telling people butter was.

The magistrates dismissed the case of Bridget Hanly, Broad-street, for a like offence, and the evidence went to show that the butter purchased from her contained 25 per cent water. Mr. Moran, solicitor, defended, and 2s 6d was imposed.
