The Chairman said since the lass meesing of the Association the only matter that called for notice was that they had sent two delegations—one to the All-Ireland Meeting in Dulchy, and the other to the Charcitro of the Exchoques, relative to the Budget proposals. Mr. Q.11 had represented them on the deputations, and has should be very happy to hear the result at these deputations.

J. Rr. Quin said it was with feelings of deep disappointment that he relutined home after having heard Mr. Lawd George on the 14th int.
Thus it was bind he said it would give a

Lloyd George refused to embertain taxon export soil, because it might effect Welsh miner. No, be preferred to tax whitely, an Irish industry, to ruin many distillaries, to throw numbers out fee mployment, and to dastry a large support rade to Empland. This was no Temperance sgielation. It was as Mr. Lloyd-George typessily stated, a measure to drive people off rhiskey and out to beer—helping the Maglish rewar at the expense of the Irish dist lerdiinally, and meet important of all, it was an attempt to rob this poor country of an extra two millions in addition to two and a half million they were already defrauded of under the Act of Union. They would he heavily faxed, and Mr. Quin—I have good seasen to believe that it would never pass. The Lords would reject it. The Chairman could not understant why determined oppeatien sheald not be given to the prepeasis suffined in the Budget. It was monstrens to think that the sountry was to suffer the loss of two millians mere by this measure, he were, he could not deep that Mr. Redmond made a very able atatament against that portion of it which affected this country. With regard to Alderman Jayoe, and the excess given by him for not acknowledging the resolution passed at the meeting against the Budget, he looked upon his explanation as all nonsense.

Budget, he looked upon his explanation as all nonsense.

Mr. Griffia looked upon Ald. Joyee as autagouistic to the licensed trade, but the next election might teach him something.

Mr. Qain said while Alderman Joyee was a personal friend of his, he could not riften from expressing his feelings towards the Party of which he was a member; in this matter. If the frish Party did not do their daty new, the licensed wase should start a candidate in opposition to him at the next General Election.

Others of the meeting having expressed their views, a resolution on the lines of Mr. Quin's remarks was unauthously adopted.
