

wigs and scarlet and ermine robes, and presence will considerably add to the pictorial of this ceremonial occasion.

Two Coins.
number of "vox populi" halfpence and are to come under the hammer in next week. These coins are commonly have been struck in order to supply which was created by the delay in receipt of a coinage from England which in the reign of King George III. was not issued until the year 1766, or six years after the arch came to the throne. The legend on alludes to the joyful and popular of the King, and the Laureate bust is intended for that of the Prince of Wales. In commemoration, it may be remembered, did not issue until 1761. The coins in question were the "Roche" of Dublin. Included in the same large number of provincial halfpenny of the eighteenth century, among them the halfpenny Birmingham (poor house), 1796, the Birmingham token, and tokens relating to Hull, Norwich, Nottingham, Newcastle, and Weybridge.

NOTES AND NOTIONS.

LIGHT UP.

and others liable to prosecution under the Vehicles Act should light up to-night tomorrow night at 5.59, and on Satur-

EMIGRATION DECLINING.

In January last 615 emigrants left Ireland, a decrease of 112 compared with the number of 1909.

DEATH NOT DIVIDED.

A man named George Rogers, aged near New Ross, died, and on the following day his wife. Both were buried on the

DID HE GET IT?

Had just shown a lady over the ship. When she said: "I am sorry to see that tips are forbidden on your ship," he replied: "I bless you, ma'am," replied the lady, who were apples in the Garden of Eden."

LIFEBOAT SATURDAY FUND.

A report was submitted at the last meeting of the Central Committee of the Lifeboat Fund. This showed the net result of the working was £19,351—£1,100 more than the previous year. The total handed to the fund since the starting of the Saturday fund was £287,397.

Militia Act of 1882.

EAST KERRY ELECTION.

Petition Presented.

A petition has been presented on behalf of John Murphy, the defeated candidate at the recent East Kerry election, against the return of Mr. Eugene O'Sullivan. The petition sets out various statutory grounds against Mr. O'Sullivan's election.

COOKERY LECTURES.

It will be seen by advertisement that Messrs. Brown and Polson have arranged for a series of afternoon and evening lectures on cookery by Miss M. M. Pettigrew, First Class Diplomee at Glasgow School of Cookery. These lectures will be held in the Athenaeum Hall, Limerick, from the 14th to the 18th instant, and as the subjects to be dealt with are varied and important there should be a large attendance of house-wives and others interested in the all-important question of cookery. The afternoon lectures will be from 3 to 4, and the evening 7.30 to 8.30. Admission free.

THE LATE DISTRICT INSPECTOR T. HOBBS.

The Funeral.

The funeral of the late District Inspector Thomas Hobbs, Royal Irish Constabulary, took place last evening from the Railway Station for the interment in Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery. The remains, after a Requiem Service at Cahirciveen, where the deceased officer was in charge for the past twelve years and up to the time of his lamented demise, were conveyed by train from Cahirciveen via Tralee, reaching here by the ordinary train due at 3.10 p.m. A procession was at once formed, and District Inspector Britten, Adare; District Inspector Simey, Newpallas; District Inspector Swanzy, Rathkeale, and District Inspector White, Limerick, acted as pall bearers for the late District Inspector. Following the hearse containing the coffin came the chief mourners—Mrs. Hobbs, widow; Cis, Josie, Teresa, and Mary Hobbs, daughters; John, Alphonsus, and Thomas Hobbs, sons; Joseph and Edward Hobbs, brothers; Thomas Hobbs, cousin; E. and J. McCormack, nephews; Mrs. Hobbs, sister-in-law; Julia Hobbs, niece; J. Hobbs, nephew; Miss T. Griffin, sister-in-law; James Griffin (brother-in-law), M. Griffin, B.C., J. Griffin, T. Griffin, F. J. Lawlor, A. Lawlor, J. Jackson, and A. Coyle. The Constabulary force which included Head-Constable Healy, Head-Constable McKernan, Sergeant Kelly, Sergeant Keating and sixty to seventy sergeants and constables marched after the funeral bier, the whole party being in charge of County Inspector Yates, who walked with the men. A large cortege of citizens and carriages brought up the rear of the sad procession. There were numerous signs and expressions of sympathy on the way, via Queen-street, George-street, and William-street to the cemetery, where the last rights were performed over the grave of an honourable and upright officer and man by the Rev. T. McNamara, C.C., St. John's.

AFFRAY NEAR KILDYSART.

Encounter Between Gangs of visited for its historical associations. Tourists were most interested in scenes with famous men.—Little difference to that between the mythical and the historical and Corinth.—Delos and Rhodes.—Troy.—Ot account of Caesar's visit to Troy.—O visited in Asia Minor.—Every place had show tourists around.—The vexed quarries.—Egypt; very much visited.—Ti—Alexandria; character of the town population.—Watering places near Pyramids.—The chief sight in Egypt vocal Memnon.—The tombs of the king Greek and Roman inscriptions found the sacred animals of the Egyptians.—Sho cataracts.—The Seven Wonders of the The Temples in the Roman Empire were museums.—Various kinds of things are exhibited therein.—Some of the different places.—Natural marvels in places.—Alleged remains of objects dating (1) the Hekioic Age, (2) the Early Historical Notes from ancient guide books.—Little taken in Art Treasures; some few places on that account.—Roman feeling for more for the beautiful than the sublime evidence of any taste for mountaineering including remarks.—Very superficial interest by the Romans in what they saw on the

NEWCASTLE-WEST TOWN COMMISSIONERS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Captain R. Curling, J.P. (chairman), present. Others present were—Jeremiah Clifford, Reidy, J. P. Cregan, Michael O'Shaughnessy, M. H. Wolfe, Dan Leonard, Dan M.C.C., Thomas Hurley, J.P.

VOICE OF CONDOLENCE.

Mr. Leonard proposed:—"That we do express our regret on the death of Mr. Gilburn, an old and highly esteemed resident of the town, and we tender to his brothers, Mr. Gilburn, D.C., and Mr. R. Gilburn, and the members of the family, our sympathy and condolence in their bereavement; and that our forward copy of this resolution to Gilburn's brothers."

Mr. Hurley said he joined with the expression of sympathy so suitably tendered by Mr. Leonard and it was only natural they should all feel on the death of a gentleman so long and honestly associated with the business of the town whose life was so upright and blameless.

Mr. Clifford and the Chairman also expressed regret and sympathy.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

A Bill for New Parliament.

The Daylight Saving Bill is to be brought before Parliament again next session if Willett's plans mature (says the Evening Star and St. James's Gazette). Already an influential measure of support has been obtained, and almost certain that it will be introduced. Edward Sassoon, the chairman of the Committee appointed in 1908 to consider it. He has proposed to give it his chance in the ballot for private members' Bills, as has also Mr. J. S. Fleck, M.P. for Hampstead.

Mr. R. Pearce, who has fathered the measure hitherto in the House of Commons, unfortunately lost his seat by 10 votes in the election, but still working vigorously for it in political circles to get members to give their chance in the ballot to the Bill.

The new Daylight Saving Bill has been drafted on practically the same lines as before. During the winter Mr. Willett has been engaged on an educational campaign by means of lectures.