At a ballot yesterday Mr. W. R. Twigg agent of the Bank of Ireland, Mr. P. T. Roche, sub-agent, and Mr. E. Holliday were elected members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The sympathy of his friends in Glin is extended to Mr. Richard O'Driscoll, C.E., Congested Districts Board (formerly of this town) on the sudden death of his wife at Mitchelstown on last Tuesday.—COR.

A meeting of the members of the Soarthen "Black and Tan" Hunt is to be held at Dobbins' Hotel, Tipperary, at 2.30 on Monday afternoon for the purpose of making arrangements for the coming season.

The total number of pigs killed or bought dead in Ireland during the week ended October 1st was 32,019; the total exported was 5,916. For the entire year to date the corresponding totals were 838,489 and 187,812.

A Templemore correspondent states that while a man named Martin Carey, of Mayne, was attending a threshing machine at Ballyduff, one of his arms was caught between the beaters and practically torn from its socket.

At the meeting of Soariff Board of Guardians, Mr. D. Hogan presiding, a resolution was unanimously passed adjourning the Board as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Miss H. B. Holohan, sister of the Clerk of the Union, whose early demise is greatly regretted.

Lieutenant and Quartermaster M. Connors, Royal Munster Fusiliers, from the Battalion at Tidworth, has been transferred to the 5th Reserve Battalion, at Limerick, and he has been ordered to join accordingly. He succeeds Major Trimby, who has retired.

Mr. J. de Courcy MacDonnell, an Irish journalist in Brussels, and a Limerickman, who was prominently identified with the Celtic Congress recently held in that city, has written a book, "Belgium: Its Kings, Kingdom, and People," which Mr. Long will publish.

Amongst those who disembarked from the "Mauretania" at Fishguard on Thursday was the Right Rev. Mgr. O'Riordan, Rector of the Irish College, Rome, who, with several other clergymen, has returned from the Eucharistic Congress at Montreal.

Ennistymen Board of Guardians have passed a resolution thoroughly approving of that of the Clare County Council requesting the Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty and other clergymen to act as arbitrators in the settlement of the railway strike.

A Croom correspondent states that the mutilated body of a man, apparently about 40 years of age, which was found on Thursday close to Rosstemple Station, has been identified as that of William O'Donnell, Gibbonsgrove, Charleville. It is supposed the poor man was knocked down by a passing train.

A man named John M'Donnell, an army reservist, has been arrested by the Limerick constabulary on the charge of fraudulently drawing reservist's pay in his own name and in the name of John Cahill, of Killenaule, county Tipperary. He has been remanded pending inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the charge.

Presiding at a meeting of the Sligo Harbour Commissioners, Colonel Campbell paid a high tribute to the worth of the late Mr. George W. Pollexfen, J.P., who for almost a quarter of a century was a member of that body, and one of its ex-chairmen. He moved a vote of condolence with his relatives, which was seconded by Mr. H. Lyons, J.P., and adopted.

An accident, involving rather serious injury to a workman named Patrick Brassill, of Pound street, occurred on Thursday afternoon at the concern of Messrs Glynn and Sons, at Merchants Quay, Kilrush. The man was engaged in tarring operations on the roof of a building known as the brewery, a three storey high structure, when he missed his footing, he was precipitated to the ground, and escaped with severe injuries about the shoulders. He is progressing favourably.

At the meeting of the Athlone Town Council on Thursday night Mr. J. J. Coen, J.P., presiding, the Town Clerk said that he had been served with notice of compensation for malicious injury to a motor boat, the property of Mr. O'Brien, manager of the National Bank. The value of the boat was set down at £120. The Chairman and other members strongly condemned the outrage, and Mr. Hughes said it was hard lines on the ratepayers who would have to pay for it.

The adjourned inquest on the body of John Doyle, railway guard in the employment of the G.S. & W. Railway, who died as the result of injuries received while shunting at Carrick-on-Suir on September 26th last, was resumed on Thursday, when the jury found that death was due to shock and exhaustion following on his injuries. They considered there was not sufficient light at Carrick station, and recommended the widow to the consideration of the railway company.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. W. W. BAILEY.

The funeral of the late Mr. W. W. Bailey, of Plassy, near this city, took place yesterday from Dublin, where the deceased gentleman died on Tuesday evening, to the great regret of a wide circle of friends through the country, and more especially in the Limerick district, in which Mr. Bailey spent the closing years of an active, strenuous, and successful career. Few residents were more popular with the people of Limerick than the deceased, his six years of life among them making known unmistakably his many good qualities, and his great desire to promote the material interests of those with whom he came to live. His kindly qualities of heart were nowhere more appreciated than in this district, and nowhere was his death, in the prime of life, more deeply and genuinely mourned. With his widow there is every sympathy, and the feeling of regard for her husband was shown in the gathering of friends from far and near to pay a last tribute of respect to the lamented deceased. The funeral left Dublin at 9.15 yesterday morning for Ballycumber Railway Station, whence the cortege started for Lis Cemetery, where the interment took place in the family burial ground. The coffin was of plain polished oak, the plaque thereon having the following inscription:—

CARNEGIE HERO FUND.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Trustees of the Carnegie Hero Fund, asking for particulars of the rescue from drowning effected by Michael Madden in March.

The Town Clerk—I have the information, and will forward it in a few days.

HOUSING SCHEME.

The Town Clerk mentioned that Mr. Dundon, solicitor, had asked him to say that negotiations with regard to the Housing Scheme were in progress, and they would be in a position to hold a meeting of the Improvement Scheme Committee in a short time.

THE LATE MRS. HOLLIDAY.

Mr. Gilligan proposed a vote of sympathy with Mr. W. Holliday, High Sheriff, on the death of his esteemed and respected mother, a member of an old Limerick family.

The resolution was seconded unanimously, and a copy ordered to be forwarded to Mr. Holliday.

LONDON NEWSPAPER'S CRITICISM OF THE CITY.

The first item on the agenda was to consider the minutes of the Finance Committee of the 26th ult.

Alderman McNeice said before the orders for payment, as recommended by the Finance Committee, were adopted he should like to make a few observations. It had been stated quite recently that £11,000 had been wasted between the Corporation and Board of Guardians, and before the minutes of the Committee now before them were adopted he should like to know from the City Treasurer how matters stood in that respect. It was a very serious thing, especially in view of the municipal elections to have it go forth in the wings of the Press that that Council was guilty of extravagance and waste. Those who had put the blame upon the Council did so with the object of attacking the democratic members of the Council. The charge had been made that during the present regime—the twelve years that they had been managing the affairs of the city they had squandered £11,000 of the citizen's money. That was the statement he had seen in an English Tory newspaper. That was what he read from those who inspired the article because evidently it was inspired by political opponents. The Alderman proceeded to read the extract from the Morning Post, and went on to say that they all knew that a month ago Mr. William O'Brien held a meeting at Kilmallock, and while in a vexatious mood he attacked the members of the Limerick Corporation, whom he said needed purification. He said in January next perhaps the results of the election would settle the matter, and that they would not be in a position to present addresses to Mr. Redmond. Fault was also found in the Morning Post article with the personnel of the Corporation, and that if they had Protestant and Unionists such waste would not exist. Now during the present regime they had three Protestant and one Catholic Unionists in the Corporation and they all bore testimony to the way the Council conducted its business. He (Alderman McNeice) had made enquiries at the Town Clerk's Office and ascertained that in the old Corporation there was only one Protestant, Mr. R. Smith, so that would show that the electorate were not as intolerant as they were represented. With the exception of the Mayoralty they had elected two of their Unionist colleagues to fill the highest offices in their gift, and during the Mayoralty of Alderman Donnellan the Corporation unanimously conferred the Freedom of the City on the Earl of Dunraven who was a patron of the All-for-Ireland League. That being so, he considered it came very badly from Mr. Bourke, that was if he had made the statement attributed to him by the writer of the article, to describe the members of the Council of which he was a member in the language set out. He asked the Treasurer for information about the wasteful expenditure of £11,000, £8,000 of which Mr. Bourke had stated at a recent meeting of the All-for-Ireland League had been spent by the Corporation.

Mr. Bourke said as his name had been mentioned it was only natural that he should reply. He noticed that Alderman McNeice dwelt at considerable length on the article in question, but he had never made a remark concerning the subject of his (Mr. Bourke's) speech at the All-for-Ireland meeting. Never in one single instance did he allude to the Council in the way described by the writer, nor did he inspire the contribution. What he did say was that the Borough Council and Board of Guardians were guilty of waste and extravagance, and that...
