PROPOSED KILRUSH TOWN HALL.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The Kilrush Urban Council are about to make a move to acquire, either by free gift or purchase, the old Market House, in the Square, for the purpose of converting it into an up-to-date Town Hall. The Council, should they acquire the site from Captain Vandeleur, the owner, would borrow money and run up a modern hall of neat design, and so supply a much needed requirement. The landlord is to be asked to make over the structure to the town or otherwise dispose of it by sale.—COR.

all appointments made should be sanctioned by the Department before the teacher took up duty?"

Mr. Comerton—Yes. Father Murphy—Have you received any letter from Mr. Fletcher?

Mr. Comerton said he had a letter from Mr. Fletcher, who stated that it would be impossible for him to meet the committee for some time. If the committee desired he would send down an Inspector, or did they prefer to wait until he could visit Limerick himself.

Mr. Barrington—I think the proper course to take is to write to the Department and call their attention to that portion of the Committee's letter dealing with Miss O'Neill's position.

Mr. Walshe—What salary does Miss O'Neill get?

Mr. Comerton—£80 a year. Mr. Griffin—Of which the Department pays three-fourths.

Mr. Comerton—If they approve of her. Alderman Donnellan proposed, and it was adopted, that the Department be written to, and asked to send their sanction to Miss O'Neill's appointment, and in the meantime that she take over the class.

MR. LYNCH, C.E.

Mr. Lynch said he desired to make a few observations personal to himself. As he was about to take up his residence in Kingstown, he would not be able to give the attention he would like to the work of the Committee in future as in the past. It was with very great regret that he severed in a way his connection after so many years with the Committee, and the members of the Committee. His long connection with technical education in Limerick had been to him a source of pleasure, because he looked upon any movement that tended towards the intellectual advancement of the people as a duty, and without intellectual advancement of the people there was little hope for the commercial prosperity of the city. That was the reason he identified himself with the work of technical education in the city. In the early days they had to work hard, and it was now a great satisfaction to him to know that he had been able to see technical education in a highly flourishing condition in Limerick. Their schools were full and the new Institute started. He could not conclude without bearing testimony to the work of the Principal who had done a great deal for the schools (hear, hear).

Mr. Barrington said as having been associated with Mr. Lynch for a long time on the Technical Education and Free Library Committees, he did not think they should allow him to depart without placing on record his services to technical education in the city. He had given them the benefit of a wide experience in educational matters, and helped them in every way possible to develop the scope of their work. He begged to move that the Committee tender their best thanks to Mr. Lynch for the invaluable services he had rendered to technical education in the city, and that they wish him every happiness and long enjoyment in his retirement in his new home (applause).

Father Murphy seconded the resolution. He said in comparison with Mr. Lynch and Mr. Barrington he could look upon himself as a new member of the Committee, but in comparison with others he was an old member. He had been connected with the Committee since the scheme they were working under was in the hatching up to the present time. He had been working with Mr. Lynch all that time, and as Mr. Barrington had stated his services were invaluable. He gave them the benefit of his educational knowledge unsparingly and he thought the Committee would miss him very much.

Miss Doyle supported the resolution, and said Mr. Lynch had at all times shown an untiring interest in the work of the Committee.

Mr. Gilligan spoke for the Corporation, and said the work accomplished by Mr. Lynch would be felt in the city for many years.

Mr. McInerney offered his tribute to Mr. Lynch's services on the Committee on behalf of the working classes, as did also Mr. Walshe.

Alderman Donnellan referred to Mr. Lynch as one of the pioneers of technical education in the city, and trusted that the Committee would do him the honour which he so well deserved, of retaining his name as a member of the Committee. (Hear, hear.)

The Chairman, in conveying the resolution to Mr. Lynch, said since he made his acquaintance as a member of that Committee twelve years ago he had always found him earnest in his work. Mr. Lynch was a man of great experience in technical education, and his departure from amongst them would be a big loss to education (applause).

Mr. Lynch said he thanked them all very sincerely for their appreciation of him. His feelings did not at present admit him saying anything further than to thank them.

Mr. Comerton said as they were on that subject

Rev. Canon Linsay B.D. (chairman) presided, and there were also present. Revs.—Canon Coleman M.A.; Canon Hobson M.A.; F. de B. Sidley D.D.; C. Cooper M.A.; Hon. B. J. Plunket M.A.; H. B. Kennedy, B.D.; Canon Hayes, M.A.; D. C. Green, B.D.; Sir Andrew Read, K.C.B.; Colonel Dobbs, Professor Carpenter, Messrs. R. C. Irwin, A. Cosgrave, J.P.; W. Hayes, S. A. S. Fitzpatrick, Rev. J. C. Irwin and the secretary.

Apologies were received from Revs.—J. L. Dwyer, S. R. McGee M.A.; J. Haythornthwaite B.D. F. W. Merger, M.A.; and P. H. Grierson. Having transacted business, the Council adjourned till Thursday November, 3rd.

MR. O'BRIEN AND THE A.I.L.

Mr. Redmond and Home Rule.

At an All-for-Ireland demonstration at Dunmanway on Sunday, Mr. William O'Brien said their movement was progressing by leaps and bounds, and would progress more quickly than ever after the extraordinary performance of the American "beggarmen," who, at a moment's notice, declared for the devolution they had been denouncing for seven years. Messrs. Redmond and O'Connor had thrown over Gladstonian Home Rule to collar the subscriptions of a few millionaire American politicians, and would probably eat their words when they got home. He advised Mr. Redmond to divide the American money for old age pensions for himself and his party.

LADY'S PICTORIAL.

The Autumn Fashion double number of the Lady's Pictorial (October 8th), is of special interest to the fair sex. There are very numerous plates, with descriptions, of the latest fashions in furs, mantles, Chic walking costumes, forthcoming modes in millinery, fashions for sportswomen, smart tailor-made gowns, etc., and pages are also devoted to the juveniles. The number contains the usual literary features. The frontispiece gives the latest portrait of their Majesties the King and Queen with their only daughter, H. R. H. Princess Victoria Mary. The outer cover of the Pictorial is a very pretty one in colours, giving us a glimpse of London "Betwixt Big Ben and Bow-Bells."

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Terminates Fatally

The railway porter, John O'Leary, who was picked up on the Cork line, near Rosbrien, about a fortnight ago, in an unconscious state, died this morning at Barrington's Hospital, where he had been since the occurrence. The deceased was found by some milosmen on their way to work, but so far no one knows how he came by his injuries.

"P. J. LYNCH.
