TABLE WEDDING

Christ Church, Morningside. A marriage was solemnised between the only son of the Very Rev. and Kilmacduagh, Ballinacran (Daisy), youngest daughter V. MacDougall, late R.A. Dep. and Mrs. MacDougall, 8 burgh. The bride was given by Mr. Alastair L. MacDougall. The bride was attended by the wifeylor, Margaret Spence, Ethel Parker, as bridesmaids. The ceremony was reported by Mr. Strange Burton. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride, where a large and fashionable party was assembled. Shortly before the ceremony the couple left for London on their honeymoon which will be

COTTAGE SANATORIUM IN CLARE.

The Women's National Health Association, Mrs. R. V. O'Brien president, present Mrs. S. Hickson, Miss Mrs. A. Greene, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Marcus Keane, Beechpark, Treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Allen, was specially summoned for the purpose of signing the recent grant given by the Government in aid of the Cottage Sanatorium, which has been given by the Women's National Health

Cottage Sanatorium and the friends were the subject of a lengthy meeting which was unanimously decided that a committee be appointed to endeavour to raise a sufficient sum to defraying of the heavy initial expenses in connection with the erection of the Sanatorium. The committee unanimously decided that circulars be sent out to the friends of the sanatorium in the county, and all interested in the cause, to ask them to contribute by such liberal donations as may enable them to make the sanatorium about to be erected, an object of the county, and of lasting benefit to the rich and poor.

Thomas Cowhey was discharged, and Patrick Cowhey remanded to Monday, Mr. Sullivan stating he required to re-examine some of the witnesses.

DARING SHOOTING OUTRAGE.

A report from Newmarket-on-Fergus states that during the week a daring shooting outrage was committed in the very heart of the village. Newmarket House, a short distance from the Parish Church being fired into. Beyond smashing the windows no damage was done. Early the following morning the house of Mr. Pat White was also fired into, none of the parties in the place, happily, being injured. Mr. White, who is an ex-policeman has been the caretaker of Newmarket House since it was given up by Mr. Galwey, and his wife has a little shop in the village. The County Inspector has paid a visit to the place. No arrests have been made.

PATIENT FATALLY INJURES HIMSELF

In Newcastle West Workhouse.

At the meeting of the Newcastle West Board of Guardians on Thursday, the Master of the Workhouse, Mr. Thomas Ambrose, reported that on Saturday night, about midnight, a patient in the Workhouse inflicted two or three gashes in his throat with a razor. He sent for the priest and doctor, who arrived immediately, and he notified the police. The wounds were attended to by the doctor, and the man lived until Monday. The police and coroner were notified of his death, and after enquiries the Coroner did not deem an inquest necessary.

In reply to guardians, Mr. Ambrose stated that the razor belonged to the man, who showed no symptom previously of his mind being unhinged.

An order was made stating that no blame could be attached to the officers, and that only for them the man would have inflicted more serious injuries on himself.

THE PENSIONS IN ENNIS WORKHOUSE.

Of the 88 inmates of the Ennis Union Workhouse, who became entitled to the old age pensions on New Year's Day, only 10 availed themselves of the State bounty, and it is stated one of these has since returned to the house. There were some very old persons in the list of those entitled to the weekly 5s, including one 79 years, one 95, one 94, two 90, six 88, one 86, two 84, two 83, four 82, one 81, and seven 80 years.

The following saving has been effected in the relieving officers districts:—70 cases knocked off in Mr. Carmody's district, equivalent to £7 7s weekly; 37 in Mr. Hickey's district, receiving £5 7s weekly; 24, with two doubtful, in Mr. Moran's district, equivalent to £3 0s 6d weekly; and 8 in Mr. Smith's district, equivalent to 18s 6d weekly.

ABBAY WARD.

At a meeting of the United Carmen's and Store-was decidedly humorous. She gave a portrayal of a theme brimful of life and her auditors evinced their appreciation of her interesting study by their hearty applause. Miss Gladys Pike sang "The Silent Song," a charm of expression which would have been possessed by a person very much her senior in years, and her clear and perfect. A recitation, "Kaiserblumen," was next given by Watson. It is an exact reproduction of the original, but in the keeping of none of its attractiveness looked. The Junior Class, led by Robert Mitchell and Eric Pike gave a rendering of the song "Pickles" the melody was very agreeably produced. Most exhilarating recitations of the kind entrusted to Master George. "One Legged Goose" was a choice certainly Master Waters left nothing to serve it up in as recherche a manner. Then came the delightful Cantata "The Song" arranged as follows:—Chorus "Green Old Woods," School; solo "The Song," Gladys Pike; chorus "The Larks," duet "Hark! said a Child," L. Vickery; chorus "The West School," Blackbird's song, Ellen Waters, Gerty Sewell, Moira Alexander, chorus "Olive Eakins and Class." E. rendered with splendid effect, and the applause which issued from the audience was a criterion of the pleasure its interest. "Too deep for that" gave Master plenty scope to display his declamation and these he used to the best advantage. Iris Jones, piano solo "Fairy Ball" appreciative item, full of rich melody and in the method of treatment. "Agony" was the subject of Miss recitation, and a decided novelty. A critical study of the theme and to meet the demand which its treatment her. The song "Ten little niggers" effectively rendered by Masters G. Ernest Dawson, Cecil Jones, J. E. Mitchell, Jack Bray, Richard P. Sewell, Eric Pike, and Caro Jones. Master Ernest Dawson whose "Mother's Almanac" was a number. It told a pretty story one at which the audience laughed. "Sing us dear Mother," furnished a chorus to which the following sang: Ina Eakins, Miss Ierne Gullen, Miss Alice Waters, Miss Gerty Dorothy Pike, Miss Louis Vickery, Alexander, and Miss Iris Jones. Winters' reappearance in a recitation "uncommon Patient," called for attention. On this occasion he repeated his previous conquest, the drollery of which heightened by the finish he imparted. The junior girls then sang after which Miss Ina Eakins gave on "The Hat of the Season," Miss was again heard in a soulful lit "The Mission of the Rose," after "Clare West Briton" was recited by Eakins with the exquisite tenderness which the words demanded. The was brought to a close with the solo sweetly rendered by Miss Majorie. The accompaniments were played by Waters, and Miss Croston acted as The distribution of prizes followed. Miss Majorie announced that the
