FUNERAL OF MR. PATRICK CONWAY.

The remains of the late Mr. Patrick Conway, Athlunkard-street, were interred on Thursday in Mount St. Lawrence cemetery in presence of a large concourse of mourners. At three o'clock the funeral left St. Mary's R.C. Church, and the cortege, which was of large proportions, bore evidence to the popularity enjoyed by the deceased in the city.

The chief mourners were—Michael Conway (son), and Andrew Killeen (son-in-law).

The clergy present were the Rev. D. R.
 Shanahan, P.P., and the Rev. Father Rea, C.C.

Amongst the general public were—W. Holliday,

THE KNIGHT OF GLIN'S ESTATE.

Compliment To A Clergyman.

A well-deserved compliment was paid to the Rev. James Coleman, C.C., Glin, yesterday, by the tenantry on the estate of the Knight of Glin.
 The proceedings, which took place at the residence of Mr. L. McDonnell, were most enthusiastic. For some time past the tenantry on this estate had been negotiating for the purchase of their holdings, and at last, through the kindly offices and instrumentality of Father Coleman, the negotiations reached a termination satisfactory to both sides.
 It was to show their appreciation of the part played by the rev. gentleman in bringing about the sale that the tenant proprietors, as they are now, assembled last evening to pay him a compliment which took the form of an illuminated address, chastely worked. It was read by Mr.
