SATURDAY BANKING HOURS.

In reply to the Council's resolution, there were letters from Mr. Maddon, Manager Bank of Ireland, and Mr. Riordan, Manager Munster and Leinster Bank, stating that their Governors were willing to extend their banking hours on Saturday to three o'clock if the other banks agreed, and if another day in the week was agreed on to close early.

Mr. Waring said he had communicated with his Directors, who were giving the matter attention.

There was no reply from the National Bank.

SANITARY STATE OF THE DISTRICT.

The Local Government Board forwarded for consideration the report of their Medical Inspector, Sir A. McCullagh, on the district, which he had recently inspected. They would be glad to know why no steps were taken to enforce compliance with the General Dairies Order, etc.

Sir Acheson McCullagh reported that the Sanitary Sub-Officer did not inspect the district carefully, nor report matters affecting injuriously the public health to the Medical Officer of Health. The Council had appointed a V.S. as Veterinary Inspector under the Dairies, etc., Order, and he inspected the district but did not seem to report. He had only reported twice since his last inspection, and in both reports he called attention to the state of premises in Mill street, but the Council took no action, and the Veterinary Inspector informed them that there was no use in reporting when they took no action. There was no systematic inspection of meat supplies in the district. No prosecutions had been instituted by the Council since last inspection under the Public Health Acts. Manure heaps were allowed to accumulate in backyards and lanes in the town. In one case the Medical Officer reported manure being kept in the room of a dwelling house. Pigs were kept in unsuitable yards. Four cases of scarlatina and two of enteric fever had occurred in the district since his last inspection.

Other matters were dealt with.

On the suggestion of the Chairman the report was referred to a Committee.

DAIRIES AND COWSHEDS INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. P. J. Howard, V.S., Veterinary Inspector, reported that owing to the very fine weather the cows had been kept out on grass since April, and he did not make any reports. Now, they were being housed again, and he was glad to say that the people were endeavouring to comply with the Order, but he regretted there was no improvement in one case. He asked that the Council should take action, and he wished some of the members should see the place.

An order was made to have the necessary proceedings taken against the party in question.

TEA VAN AT FAIRS.

Mrs. Maroua Keane wrote complaining of the tollage on the tea van at the fairs on the Fair Green. For the six fairs it attended it paid 5s. each, and it did not pay for itself.

Mr. Sheehan—If there was a tent what would you charge?

Chairman—10s.

Mr. Capon—Do you think the van is doing good service to the town?

Chairman—I don't think it is.

Mr. [illegible] for old [illegible] providing [illegible] for people coming to fairs in the early morning.

It was decided to inform Mrs. Keane that the Council could not see their way to remove the tollage.

CHINESE BACON IN IRELAND.

The Department informed the Committee of the Irish Cattle Traders Association at their last meeting [illegible] officially unaware of any [illegible]

Union resumed their militant tactics on Tuesday night, when an attempt was made by a deputation to reach the House of Commons for the purpose of interviewing the Prime Minister. After an enthusiastic meeting at Caxton Hall, the deputation, which numbered between forty and fifty women, started for the House, but after marching a few yards the procession was quite broken up by the enormous crowd, and the militants were clinging to each other in isolated groups of threes and fours. The police had made elaborate preparations for dealing with the situation, and Parliament Square was so strongly guarded that the scattered remnants of the procession found it impossible to break through the cordon. There was a series of struggles with the police, and a party of women managed to make their way to the main entrance of the Houses of Parliament, but failed to pass the police guard.

Various desultory encounters took place, and there was a continuous procession of constables and female prisoners to the police station. Later there was an attack on Government and private property, and scores of windows in Whitehall and the vicinity were smashed with stones. The window-smashing extended to the Strand, where the Post Office, Somerset House, and several shops adjacent to the Hotel Cecil were attacked. The women who inflicted the damage made no attempt to escape arrest. It transpired that altogether about two hundred and twenty arrests had been effected, including most of the members of the Irish contingent. Among those arrested were the Hon. Evelina Haverfield, Lady Constance Lytton, and Miss Hillinghurst.

DEATH OF A LIMERICK MAN IN ENGLAND.

We regret to observe the announcement of the death of Dr. Wm. Henry O'Meara, of Carlton House, Fleet Road, Holbeach, Lincolnshire, which took place on Wednesday night, November 15th, at the age of 52. The deceased gentleman, who was eldest son of the late Mr. Wm. O'Meara, of Castleconnell, Co. Limerick, had been a surgeon in the Royal Navy previous to his coming to Holbeach some twenty years ago. He was a District Medical Officer and Public Vaccinator under the local Board of Guardians for 15 years. Although he had been in poor health for the past six months, he was enabled to be up the day before his death. A vote of condolence has been passed by the Guardians with Mrs. O'Meara, his widow, in her sorrow. Deceased, who had property in Ireland, was, says The Lincolnshire, Boston, and Spalding Free Press, "very fond of his native country. Every St. Patrick's Day it was his custom to bestow upon certain of his friends in Holbeach a sprig of Shamrock." The funeral, which took place on Saturday, was largely attended, and wreaths were sent by many friends.
