

The Bishop of Limerick and Miss Orpen propose leaving Limerick for several weeks on the 13th inst. Communications on diocesan business during the Bishop's absence should be sent to the Archdeacon of Limerick, who acts as his Commissary.

FATALITY AT THE ASYLUM.

Mr. J. F. Barry, J.P., City Coroner, held an inquest this evening at the Limerick District Lunatic Asylum as to the death of Patrick Keogh, a patient in the institution. The medical evidence was that the fatality must have ensued through deceased drinking some Jay's fluid on Thursday morning, death following yesterday afternoon. Every attention was paid to Keogh, but unavailingly. There was no evidence how deceased procured the fluid, and the jury found that death was due to taking an irritant poison.

FISHING RESORTS ON LONDON AND NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

"Fishing Resorts on the L. and N. W. R." is the title of a little booklet which has been issued by the London and North Western Railway Company. It furnishes the names of over one hundred angling stations, and, carrying its object to the furthest limit, gives the waters that may be fished, the kind of fish that may be looked for, and the names and addresses of those to whom to write for any further information required. A copy of the booklet can be obtained free on applying at any L. and N. W. station, agency, town office, or from the Euston Enquiry Office.

THEATRE ROYAL.

Very large houses enjoyed at the Theatre Royal, on Thursday and Friday nights. Sir A. W. Pinero's celebrated play "His House in Order," which was admirably presented by Mr. Frank Fenton's Company who were most heartily received throughout. The plot is a powerful one, and the various parts were faultlessly presented.

To-night, the Comedy Theatre success "The Crucible," by E. G. H. Hemmerde, K.C., M.P., and Francis Neilson, M.P., authors of "A Butterfly on the Wheel," will be presented, and should attract a crowded house.

The Pictures will be resumed next Monday night, and during the week there will be one of the most expensive and attractive "Starring" engagements ever brought to the Royal. Writing with regard to this excellent variety entertainment a Dublin evening contemporary says:—"For fully half an hour at each performance in the Tivoli Theatre last night a crowded audience held its sides and roared laughing at the antics provided by A. D. Robbins, and his renowned 'Bucking Bicycle.' The turn is one of the cleverest, and at the same time most diverting seen on a Dublin stage for many a year. It combines extraordinary skill in the manipulation of freak bicycles, with a series of situations that literally take the house by storm and drive the spectators into fits of laughter. Mr. Robbins is known to the variety world as 'The Cycle Tamer.' He rides and performs tricks on the quaintest machines that the mind of the mechanic could conceive. 'The Four Heidelberg' which form the second portion of this variety programme in their 'merry musical r-musical melange,' have also

DERRY ELECTION.

Londonderry, Friday Night.

Late to-night Mr. Hogg, Nationalist candidate, stated he had definitely decided to stand for Derry.

Colonel Pakenham issued his election address last night, and asks the support of the electors to preserve the Union. He declares himself against the imposition of food taxes, but in favour of the taxation of foreign manufactured goods and luxuries.

LIMERICK QUARTER SESSIONS.

County Court Judge Law-Smith continued today the hearing of defended civil bills.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE CASE.

Michael Moran, labourer, processed the Irish Mutual Insurance Society to recover £20 10s, alleged to be due by the defendants on the life of applicants' brother, Joseph Moran, who became deceased on the 18th October last. The defendant Company resisted the claim on the grounds of misrepresentation and that applicant had no insurable interest in the person, under the statute of George III. Evidence having been given.

His Honor said he would have to decide in favour of the company with regard to the insurable interest, but if counsel, Mr. Corbett, pressed for the pound of flesh, he would have a Jewish judgment, but with a Jewish punishment. The defence with regard to insurable interest would affect all the insurance business of the city, and be subversive of all commercial morality.

Mr. Corbett who (instructed by Mr. R. Frost, solr.) appeared for the Company, asked for time to consider the matter, and ultimately it was arranged that the case would be mentioned at Newcastle West or Rathkeale Quarter Sessions.
