

CITY PETTY SESSIONS.

The adjudicating Magistrates at the City Petty Sessions yesterday were Messrs. P. J. Kelly, R. P. O'Connell and J. Quinn.

CRUELTY TO A HORSE.

Patrick Delany, Castleconnell, was prosecuted for allowing a horse to be worked while in an unfit condition, and Patrick McCarthy for working the animal.

Mr. M. Linnane, Inspector to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, stated that the animal had five sores on the breast.

A fine of 2s 6d was imposed on the owner of the horse, and 10s on the driver.

Patrick McCarthy, Castleconnell, was fined 10s and 1s 6d costs for working a horse in the city on the 25th February, while suffering from sores under the harness.

STREET OBSTRUCTION.

A number of juveniles from the Thomondgate district were charged with obstructing the thoroughfare, by hurling and playing football.

A fine of 1s and costs was imposed in each case.

The Court rose early.

CHILD'S TONGUE COATED.

A sign of Stomach Disturbance.

Look at the child's tongue, mother! If it is white or yellowish, coated, instead of being clean and pink, be sure that the little one's stomach is out of order. Costiveness, a hot brow, peevish temper, and restlessness are signs that the child needs a gentle, cleansing laxative.

A teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs (look for the blue-ring trade-mark) will relieve the bowels, and bring back appetite and good temper.

Do not give a child castor oil, or other harsh drugs: give Nature's pleasant laxative, California Syrup of Figs, made of luscious ripe fruit-juices. This will clear the loaded bowels, sweeten the breath, cleanse the sour stomach, and bring back cheerful health in a few hours without any sickness or griping.

Nature's cure for costiveness is fruit. The genuine California Syrup of Figs contains ripe, luscious fruits, Nature's pleasant laxative. To give this is not like drugging your child with harsh purgatives.

Instructions how to give California Syrup of Figs to children of all ages, and also to adults, are printed in the Directions for Use wrapped round the bottle.

Your chemist will not try to sell you a substitute if he realises that you belong to the class of those who know the genuine and original "California Syrup of Figs," with the blue-ring trade-mark of the California Fig Syrup Co. Of chemists, 1s. 1d. and 1s. 9d.

Fitt, A Friend, Miss Reardon, T. Grubb, Esq.

A LUNCHEON APPETITE

Follows a Change of Food at Breakfast.

When appetite fails, the trouble sometimes lies with indigestible food eaten at the previous meal.

A Newcastle man writes as follows:—

"I used to take a breakfast of bacon and eggs, but always experienced a heavy, bilious sensation during the morning. By the time the luncheon hour came I didn't feel at all inclined to eat, and often dispensed with the midday meal altogether.
