MR. WILLIAM O'BRIEN AND HOME RULE.

The Times publishes a letter from Mr. William O'Brien, in which he says the danger of violence and bloodshed in Ireland is a substantial one, but could without difficulty be averted by intervention in the highest degree honourable to Unionist statesmanship and of inestimable value to the future of the Irish Protestant community. Furthermore, Mr. Bonar Law's two conditions of a radically re-constructed Bill and an appeal to England would be fulfilled, the latter by means of the Referendum. Let responsible statesmen bethink them well what is their own alternative to the policy of conference, conciliation, and consent.

ULSTER VOLUNTEER FORCE.

Letter from Sir E. Carson.

Sir E. Carson has addressed a letter to the Unionist Clubs in Ulster expressing the sincere hope that all who are eligible will jo'n the Ulster hope that all who are eligible will join the Ulater Volunteer Force without loss of time. "As leader," he continues, "my responsibility compels me to point to the danger of holding aloof at this juncture when it is necessary to perfect final arrangements. My request is that all our men should join the Ulater Volunteers, even old men can guard their property, hearths, and homes, and thus release the young and more active for whatever work may be necessary."

SUDDEN DEATH NEAR CROOM-

An old age pensioner residing with his 11-yearold daughter in a labourer's cottage at Fort Elizabeth, Croom, was found by the poor child dead in the bed on Sunday morning, when she returned from a neighbour's house, whither she had gone for milk. Deceased was at Mass at Croom on the previous day, apparently in fairly good health.
