

that it is still far from as it gives no preference markets to the principal minions, but we may be successful working of the out by Mr. Bonar Law at lingering objections to the full policy. It was not so representative a lists, composed of delegates the country, should have ly and with acclamation sed by Mr Henry Chaplin, the belief that the best rising remedy for labour ound in the reform of our he first constructive policy arty, with the view, which ended by every succeeding 1907: (1) Of broadening tion; (2) of safe-guarding ive industries from unfair 3) of strengthening our purpose of negotiation in ; and (4) of establishing mercial arrangement with d securing for British pro- kmen a further advantage mpetitors in the Colonial Unionist policy of Tariff ned at Norwich and else- nean the expansion of our in turn would mean greater ome, and a wider and more eld of employment for the nsequently it is a question tely bound up with industrial ese islands.

LEAKFASTS AT FAIRS.
 gratifying to notice that at f the Limerick Temperance sterday afternoon the report very telling evidence of the one by the management in y breakfasts at fairs, and the that work evinced by those efitated from so commendable g. Few, save those who have rs. from year's end to year's inds of weather, can rightly value of the work, and its

The Postmaster-General, in reply to the deputa- tion yesterday regarding the Holt Committee report, explained the Government's attitude as to conditions and rates of pay, and said: They did not propose to enforce the recom- mendation that time lost on certain off-days should be made up on other days. They decided to leave the meal reliefs question as it stood. There was no intention of revising conditions regarding hours off duty. The request for an all-round increase of 15 per cent could not be acceded to.

ASSOCIATION OF IRISH POST OFFICE CLERKS.

Meeting in Limerick.
 Under the auspices of the Association of Irish Post Office Clerks, a public meeting was held in the Town Hall this evening under the presi- dency of the Mayor, to protest against the adoption by Parliament of the findings of the Holt Commis- sion. Owing to the late hour at which the meeting began (5 o'clock), we are obliged to hold over report of the proceedings to next issue.

NEW JUDGE.

Mr. Robert Doyle, K.C., Made Recorder of Galway.
 Mr. Robert Doyle, K.C., has been appointed to the vacant Recordership of Galway. The ap- pointment is a most popular one, and Judge Doyle received quite an ovation yesterday morning on his entering the Law Library. Mr. Robert Joseph Doyle, second son of Hugh Doyle, Registrar in Bankruptcy, was educated at Trinity College, Dublin. Mr. Doyle was called to the Outer Bar in Michaelmas Term, 1889, and joined the North-West Circuit. His success at his profession was unquestioned. He rapidly built himself a very large practice, particularly in the Bankruptcy Court, where he soon became the acknowledged leader. He took silk in 1909.

DEATH OF RELATIVE OF GERALD GRIFFIN.

The remains of the late Miss E. Griffin, a near relative of the Irish Poet, Gerald Griffin, arrived from Dublin this afternoon, where she died, and the interment took place at Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery.

PROPOSED INCREASE OF FARES ON WEST CLARE RAILWAY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)
 At Ennis Board of Guardians yesterday, Mr. M. Tiernev presiding, The Clerk read a resolution of the Ennistymon Guardians congratulating the local directors of the West and South Clare Railways for their successful resistance of the proposal to increase the fares on those railways at the late meeting in Dublin, and also on the reduction of the directors' fees, which meant a substantial saving to the county. Special thanks were given to Mr J. J. Daly, Solr. Co.C., for his action. The Chairman said this action was satisfactory. The rates were large enough already. It meant that the people would have to pay on the double, for they were maintaining the railways, as well as paying the ordinary rates and passenger fares. They ought all to be very thankful to Mr. Daly and those who supported him for preventing the must give Irishmen more notice they must give their faces to the sun, and no power would keep them back. During the meeting crowds of students outside created a great disturbance, in which the police were assailed with stones and tomatoes. Fierce assaults on the entrances were made, an umbrellas and sticks were freely used. Several students were arrested. The newly-formed Dublin Civic League held meeting last night to protest against the attitude of the employers. The O'Mahony presided, an about two thousand people were present, several hundreds being unable to gain admittance. Large body of police was in attendance, as trouble was feared. A sympathetic telegram was sent to Larkin at the Albert Hall meeting, in London. Captain White was among the speakers. The proceedings lasted till close upon midnight, and there was no disturbance. Everything was very quiet in Dublin yesterday, and the only incident of note in connection with the strike was the arrival of another batch of strike-breakers.

No Sympathetic Strike.

London, Wednesday. The Press Association understands that the Trades Union Parliamentary Committee will not recommend a sympathetic strike in connection with the Dublin dispute, but will support the Dublin strikers in every other way.

To Raise Discontent in Ireland

Peter Larkin, a brother of James Larkin, addressing a meeting in Cork last night, said he could isolate Dublin, and let nothing into except food and coal for the locked-out workers. The workers were out to raise discontent through the length and breadth of Ireland, and they wanted to get the men of the four provinces organised, so that they could emancipate the country. Any man who was not a trades unionist was a coward and a white-livered cur to the class from which he came.

SITUATION IN DUBLIN TO-DAY.

FREE LABOUR AT WORK.

Our Dublin correspondent wires—At the present rate of discharge there are sufficient free labourers at work to release all the vessels in port within the past fortnight. The number of vessels unloaded to-day was nine. The Coal Merchants Association has now a full staff of non-union labour.

Billposters Return to Work.

Billposters previously employed by Messrs David Allen and Sons, Great Brunswick-street Dublin, who had been on strike for six weeks returned to work this afternoon.

Dublin Steam Packet Company

Seamen and Firemen Paid

The Dublin Steam Packet Company are to-