

gan—I personally regret the death of clerk, Mr Parker, who is not a loss to me, but to the public. He was a man who says civil to the public as well as being kind, and I only hope that in our next appointment we can appoint a man who will be as good as Mr Parker. My brother magistrates will, I am sure, show that our sympathy will go forth to his relatives.

Rohan said he knew Mr. Parker since he was appointed, and they both came there about the same time. He deeply regretted his loss, and was very sorry for his relatives. Mr. Parker was a man in a hundred, and he always was very courteous and obliging so far as his duties were concerned, and he had the respect of the public at large.

District Inspector McClelland said he wished to see Mr. Parker in the vote of sympathy. He had a long experience of Petty Sessions clerks in different parts of Ireland, and he always thought Mr. Parker was one of the best.

Constable McMahon said he wished to see Mr. Parker of himself and the police of the district to be associated with the resolution.

Constable McMahon was appointed Clerk until the vacancy is filled. The Court then adjourned.
