

members of the Opposition for the copy memorandum? (Laughter.)
 Parker—Was Sir A. Paget instructed to the officers not to take notes?
 Squith—No, sir, he was not.
 Worthington Evans asked whether there was written record anywhere of the questions put to the officers.
 Sir A. Paget to the officers.
 Squith—Not so far as I am aware.
 Kellaway—Cannot these questions be put to the spies in the service of the Government? (Ministerial cheers and laughter.)
 Helmley—Does the right hon. gentleman say that there were no written instructions ever given to Sir A. Paget? (Opposition cheers.)

Squith—Not except those which have been given. (Ministerial cheers.)
 Squith, replying to a further question, said he would issue a revised version of the paper, containing all the documents which had been published on this question, and if there were other documents which could properly be made public they would be added. (Opposition cheers.)

The teacher asked the Prime Minister whether he would state the date of the appointment of the Committee of the Cabinet, the existence of which was disclosed by the Attorney-General in his speech at Blackburn on March 28th; whether the members of such Committee included the Secretary of State for War, the First Lord of the Admiralty, the Chief Secretary to the Lord Chancellor of Ireland, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Attorney-General; whether the Committee was to be considered by that Committee for the protection of military stores in Armagh, Londonderry and Carrickfergus? If so, what was the presence on that Committee of the Secretary of the Admiralty, the Secretary of the India Office, and the Attorney-General; whether the Committee was to be considered by that Committee for the preparations for, and the carrying out of, operations by the military and naval forces in the Crown in Ulster; and whether the proceedings of that Committee were to be submitted to him?

Squith said it had never been the intention to disclose the proceedings or the reasons for the constitution of a Cabinet Committee, and he proposed to make any alteration in the procedure. (Ministerial cheers.)

The teacher—Can he give the names of the members of the Committee?
 Squith—The names are given in the report. (Opposition cheers.)

The teacher—Were the proceedings on the subject communicated to the right hon. member?
 Squith—I decline to answer any question put to me in the House of Commons. (Loud Opposition cheers and counter cheers.)

Squith, replying to Major Hope, said as he would ascertain it was not the fact that the men at out-stations or on detachment duty were given the opportunity of resigning if they were not prepared to take active operations in Ulster.

Culhane has been appointed a Taxing Officer in succession to Master Goff, who has been holding the office for nearly thirty years.

members of the Club.
 "The Prosperity of Limerick" was proposed by the Mayor Alderman J. O'Donovan, who was pleased he could state with authority that Limerick was progressing favourably, the exports and imports were greater than at any period in the history of the city and speaking generally there was a brighter and more hopeful outlook before them all. Having referred at length to the various important industries of the city, the Mayor found heartily in the good wishes which had been extended to Mr. O'Connor, and proposed with much pleasure the Prosperity of Limerick, which was received with much enthusiasm, the whole company rising and signing "A Nation Once Again."

The toast was responded to by Messrs John Shannon, M. Dooley, B.C.; and P. Hannan. The health of the Mayor was proposed by the Chairman and suitably acknowledged by his Worship.

The toast of the "Garryowen Football Club" was given by Mr A. MacNeice, who referred to the match played in Cork on Saturday, and expressed the hope that the Limerick boys would capture the Munster Cup on Saturday next. Messrs J. Begley, M. Spain, and A. M. DePrius responded on behalf of the Garryowen Club.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Charlie O'Connor for presiding so ably at the piano, and to the Chairman, Mr. Fitzgibbon, for the dignified and highly satisfactory manner in which he had conducted the proceedings brought this pleasant function to a close.

Songs were rendered during the evening by Messrs J. Tomkins, C. O'Connor, H. Guinane, Dr. McDonnell, J. Begley, W. Shanahan, J. Bartley, J. M. O'Brien, J. O'Connell, W. P. Cutbush, P. O'Riynn, J. Shannon, J. Hardy, J. Hall, T. Waters, T. J. Loughrey, J. Whelan.

MESSRS. WM. TODD & CO'S FASHION CIRCULAR.

We have received a copy of Messrs. William Todd and Co's Fashion Circular for 1914. It is as usual copiously illustrated and very artistically printed on glazed paper. The work has been turned out by Mr A. J. Eakins, 68 George street, and serves to remind us that there is no need to go outside Limerick firms for high-class printing.

DEATH FROM HEAT STROKE.

Michael Tobin, aged three years, living at the North Strand, succumbed to the effects of heat stroke yesterday. The little fellow was running to meet his father when he was overcome, and died in a short time. The circumstances having been communicated to the City Coroner, an inquest was not considered necessary.

the second half the superiority of the front division stood out in agreeable contrast to the inferiority of their opponents. The over the College eight, whose backs made amends. In the forward line of were best served by Quilligan, Killeen & while of the halves Leahy got the amount of work for Garryowen. Costel threequarters did well, while O'Sullivan gave a reliable display. For a light pace Murphy-O'Connor and Richardson were prominent for the College, Harry Jack success of the game from every point of view kicked judiciously, defended well, was the saving clause of his side. The were all excellent, particularly T. who never failed to take O'Connor, which as custodian, was not as useful as his. The match will be re-played at the Mark at four o'clock sharp on Saturday. The executive are making suitable arrangements cater for the attendance, which is sure large proportions. The suggestion put to provide touch-line seats will, it is to be meet with approval, as the standard occasions is quite incapable of meet demands made on it.

THE PORT OF LIMERICK AND CATTLE TRADE.

The following letter has been received from John F. Power, Secretary to the Harbour Commissioners:—
