District Council Condition of Cottages AN INQUIRY CALLED FOR

INGS AT MONTHLY MEETING FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)
Meeting of the Glin Rural District Council was held on Tuesday, Mr. Denis C.C., presiding. Also present—Patrick Culhane, Daniel Sheahan, Seánlan, William Aberne, Michael and M. Dore, and Patrick N. Fitz-maughnessy, Clerk, and Mr. F. C.
R.R., Engineer to Council, were in attendance.
Minutes were about to be signed, when an inquiry was put in a notice of a Sworn Inquiry into the whole of the cottages. Mr. Hartigan was in charge of them.
Mr. Dore also complained of the delay in the matter, and said: "You are making a nuisance of yourself." Mr. Hartigan said there was a misunderstanding in this matter, and he was prepared to meet the day with the steward and show the matter to do.
Mr. Dore—I don't see how any contractor can give a final certificate, as I see that it is cancelled in the book.
Mr. Hartigan—Then there's room for a Sworn Inquiry.
Mr. Dore—I would wish to have a Sworn Inquiry which would be most illuminating. You are trying to get me to walk into a trap, my resignation there. There is a standing.
Mr. Dore said he would second Mr.
Hartigan's proposition.
Mr. Hartigan suggested that a week be allowed to the contractor, so that Mr. Hartigan could grant certificates to the contractors, who would be the Clerk in the meantime to each specifying the amount due.
It was decided to allow a fortnight.
Mr. Hartigan said he was not going to have Mr. Maurice Culhane and himself work. They wanted no interference from the Council or anyone else. Mr. Culhane spoke under him very well, indeed, in reception of one place in the chair-man's division.
Mr. Hartigan objected to Maurice Culhane having anything to do with the 20 cottages for which certificates were given, so that a final loan could be got, and when the certificates were again to be issued by a steward.
The steward now said he would not have anything to do with any of the houses.
Mr. Hartigan said it was agreed to that the engineer should go over the houses one in Mr. Seánlan's division.
Mr. Hartigan dissented.
Minutes were made by labourers as to the condition of their cottages, and it was decided that the engineer should report on the condition of the houses.
The Clerk read a letter from the L. G. Board asking for an explanation from the sanitary committee, according to the medical report, had made eight visits of inspection for the past half-year.
Mr. Dore, S.S.O., reported he visited certain yards and premises and found the sanitary officer of Health reported that an epidemic of influenza—25 persons in the district with bronchitis and a following, but fortunately there was but one death. He recommended disinfection.
Mr. Dore—How can we isolate and disinfect when we don't know who they are.
Mr. Hartigan—He is only making game of us.
The sanitary officer reported on the filthy condition of the laneways and open common lodginghouses in the town registered.
Mr. Hartigan—There are no common lodging houses in the town.
Mr. Dore—Why doesn't the M. O. name the common lodging houses?
Mr. Hartigan was read from the L. G. Board stating that they would not see their way to comply with the Council's request to refund the sum of £100 to the contractor who lodged same when for a road contract.
Mr. Hartigan decided to ask the L. G. Board to sanction a refund, as the contractor only failed to sign the contract through one of his agents not signing the bond.
Mr. Hartigan said when the auditor was there under the circumstances to him.
Mr. Dore received from a bailiff at Listowel two labourers, and for car hire, the amount being £2 15s.
Mr. Dore, who was evicted, said he offered the collector 15s provided to his eviction and the balance.
The Collector admitted an offer was made which would have been evicting him and he had to pay these arrears to the auditor surcharged him.
Mr. Hartigan bore out this statement.
Mr. Hartigan said he remembered that a

SALE OF A HEIFER Peculiar Case

CONFLICTING TESTIMONY
At the Ennis Quarter Sessions, his Honor County Court Judge Bodkin, K.C., heard an action for £0 15s, the price of a yearling heifer brought by Michael Scantlan, Loop Head, against James Crawford, Letterkilly. Mr. A.
Corbett, B.L. (instructed by Mr. J. B. Lynch, solicitor), appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. R. H.
Cullinan, B.L. (instructed by Mr. John Cullinan, solicitor), appeared for the defendant.
The plaintiff deposed that he sold a heifer to the defendant at Killkee fair on the 10th May for £0 15s; after the sale he (witness) went buying a springer, and left a man named Hanrahan in charge of the heifer; in his absence the defendant came and took away the heifer, and when witness searched for him subsequently he could not find him; he did not know the defendant's name at the time or where he lived; in a few days he got a letter from the defendant saying the heifer was in calf, and that she was no good to him; witness had not been paid for her and he wrote back saying to send her home to him; the defendant did not do so, and witness, as a result of further correspondence went to the defendant's place and saw that the heifer had slung a calf; he gave the defendant's father £1 compensation.
Amongst other questions, Mr. Cullinan asked—Are you aware that the defendant is prepared to swear that he paid you £0 15s in a five pound note, a single note, and 15s in the presence of witnesses? I don't know.
Were you drunk? No, but I had a few bottles of stout taken.
Did you tell old Crawford that you were drunk that night and that you did not know what happened to you? No.
Did you ever say to anyone you were paid for the heifer? No.
His Honor—Did you expect the man in whose charge you left the heifer to keep it until he got paid? I never saw an occasion where a man did the like of this before; I thought the payment would be all right.
Michael Hanrahan, Loop Head, said he was in charge of the heifer when the defendant came to take it; he asked him not to take the animal until he paid for it, and he asked him for the money; he told witness it would be all right, and he took the animal away.
His Honor—Why did you let the animal go?
I trusted the man (laughter).
In reply to Mr. Cullinan, witness said he had no drink taken that day.
James Crawford, defendant, deposed he paid the plaintiff for the heifer in Keane's public-house; Thomas Haugh was present and he counted the money into Haugh's hand, who passed it on to plaintiff; there were a few words about the "luck penny"; the plaintiff only wanted to give witness 1s, but Haugh made him give 1s 6d.
Thomas Haugh gave corroborative evidence.
His Honor said it was a very peculiar case.
He could not understand the plaintiff giving the defendant £1 compensation if he owed him the price of the animal. The defendant seemed a decent fellow, and he would dismiss the case with costs.

Alleged Intimidation Trouble Over a Farm

CHARGE AT SPECIAL COURT
A Special Court was held in the R. I. C.
Barracks, Cashel, to investigate a charge of intimidation preferred against Stephen Butler, of Cormackstown, Holycross, who was present at the fair of Cashel, and did, as alleged, interfere with Mr. Richard Long, of Clogher, Clonoulty, selling cattle which had been taken from his sister's farm at Beakstown.
The accused is a nephew-in-law of Mrs. Butler, whose husband died lately. A dispute has been going on in the district for some time.
Mr. C. V. Barrington, J.P., B.L., was the presiding magistrate. Mr. T. D. Norris, D.I., Cashel, prosecuted. The accused was not professionally represented.
Acting Sergeant Stephens, Clonoulty, deposed that on the 11th June at Cashel he saw Stephen Butler, of Cormackstown, persistently follow Richard Long, of Clogher, Clonoulty; Butler interfered with the sale of the cattle that Mr.
Long had for sale; Butler went up to the dealer, and said, "Have nothing to do with the cattle as they came from the disputed Beak-stown farm;" his conduct was liable to provoke a breach of the peace; he (witness) applied to have defendant give sureties to be of good behaviour, as he (Sergeant Stephens) apprehended a breach of the peace.
Accused (to witness)—Did you see me do anything to prevent him selling the cattle?
Witness—Yes, I did. I saw you speaking to some persons, farmers and dealers, who were trying to negotiate a sale with Mr. Richard Long. You stated to them that the cattle were off the disputed Beakstown farm, and you told them not to purchase them.
Richard Long, a farmer residing at Clogher,

Death of Mr. Michael Marshall, Inch St. Lawrence

It is with feelings of the deepest regret we have to chronicle the death of Mr. Michael Marshall which took place at his residence, Inch St. Lawrence, on Sunday, June 7th.
Although in failing health for some months past, his untimely end came as a severe shock to his family, relations and friends. He was held in the highest esteem by all and there are many who mourn his loss. He took a leading part in the public affairs of the parish and as a Nationalist was second to none, being all his lifetime identified with the cause. The local branch of the U.L.L., will miss him sorely as he was both organizer and treasurer of same.
To his sorrowing wife and family is extended the sympathy of all. Requiem Office was celebrated at 10 o'clock, being immediately followed by solemn Requiem High Mass, The celebrant was—Rev. J. M'Grath, C. C., Caherconlish; deacon, Rev. J. Fitzgerald, C. C., Ballybricken; sub-deacon, Rev. W. Berkery; master of ceremonies, Rev. W. Ryan, P. P., Ballybricken. In the choir were Rev. E. Hanly, P. P., Caherconlish and Rev. T. Ryan, P. P., Ballina.
The funeral started from the parish church at Inch St. Lawrence at 12 o'clock for the family burial place, Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery, Limerick, and was one of the largest seen there for many years. The chief mourners were—

Defective Cottage District Council Decried

ACTION AT ENNIS QUARTER SESSIONS At the Ennis Quarter Sessions, before Judge Bodkin, K. C., Michael Grouin, Kiltirk East, sued the Ennis District Council for £13 damages sustained by their neglect in not keeping his cottage in repair. Mr. P. Hickman, B. L. (instructed by Mr. E. Crowe, solicitor), appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. A. Corbett, B. L.
(instructed by Mr. J. B. Lynch, solicitor), defended.
Mr. Allen gave details of the defects, which were numerous, in the cottage. In one case the rain off the eve shoot discharged under the bedroom floor. The cottage was eleven years built, and would really have to be rebuilt.
Mr. Corbett said that the Council had dis-pensated with the service of their engineer, Mr.
O'Connor, and would have their work done, but the L. G. Board refused to sanction Mr.
Tierney's appointment, and they had now appointed Mr. Dowling.
His Honor said he could not forget that this was going on for seven years, there was no excuse at all for the District Council, because year after year it was brought under their notice that the contractors were using inferior material and still were paid, and still they kept on their officers.
The plaintiff having corroborated the evidence of Mr. Allen, his Honor gave a decree for £10, to be reduced to £7 if the Council had the cottage put in proper repair within three months.

Limerick Fire Victim Solemn Requiem Mass, at which his Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Gilmartin presided, was celebrated at the Cathedral, Loughrea, on Friday for the repose of the soul of the late Mr.
John Hall, who lost his life in the Limerick fire on Wednesday morning last. After the Mass the remains, which were encased in a massive oak coffin, borne on the shoulders of the people, were conveyed from the Cathedral to Abbey Cemetery, where interment took place. A large number of clergy and laity of different denominations attended the funeral. A number of beautiful wreaths were placed on the grave by the relatives and friends of the deceased.

Recent City Fire
At a general meeting of the Baker's Society held on the 10th inst., a vote of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. John Griffin, Lower Gerald Griffin-street, was passed.
