

HARRINGTON'S

RENOWNED IRISH-MADE

SANO

DISTEMPER

LOVELY SHADES.

Cheap, Durable, Healthy.

If cannot procure locally, write

Manufacturers—

WORKS,

HARRINGTONS, Ltd.,

SHANDON COLOR, PAINT & VARNISH

CORK.

SUCSESSES.

HARDY'S

LIMERICK COMMERCIAL ACADEMY,

38 O'CONNELL STREET.

AT Examination held in above Academy
May, 1914, the following Pupils were awarded the Pitman Elementary Certificate in Shorthand:—

MISS ISABEL CUNNINGHAM.
MISS GLADYS PIKE.
MISS GLADYS DELANY.
MISS MAY FAWL.
MISS MAY O'NEILL.
MISS AMY HALPIN.

TIMBER. CEMENT.

SLATES.

JUST DISCHARGED.

- SS. "Hasting"—Cargo Bright Swedish Floorings, Sheetings, Scantlings and Boxwood.
- SS. "Tern"—Cargo of the celebrated Dinorwic or Vellinell GENUINE BANGOR SLATES. Sizes, 24 x 14, 24 x 12, 22 x 11, and Queen Tons.
- SS. "Calcaria"—700 Tons Johnson's Celebrated Elephant Brand London Portland Cement. Several other Cargoes on passage. Largest and Best Stocks in the South-west of Ireland. Special prices. Inquiries invited.

JAMES M'MAHON, Ltd.,
IMPORTERS, LIMERICK.

Telegrams—"Cooperage, Limerick."

Telephone—Nos. 89 and 95.

County Limerick Cattle Drive

About 30 head of cattle were driven off the untenanted lands of Ballydoole and Mellon, in the Pallaskeury district, on Friday night or early on Saturday morning. The lands in question are owned by Mr. Montiford Westropp, and have been for a considerable time the subject of an agitation for the planting thereon of those who claim to be entitled to them. They are evicted lands, and the evicted tenants or their representatives are seeking to get possession of them. It is considered that the cattle drive on Friday night was part and parcel of the agitation for having the lands given over to those who should, according to popular opinion, be the rightful occupiers.

as he is a very influential man otherwise—entirely to the fact that he was the upholder of the policy and the party that were, so far as they were in any way effective, acting as a clog on the wheels of Ireland's progress to Home Rule. The first meeting of the newly-elected Council was held yesterday when the fact that Cork County is unmistakably and enthusiastically behind the Irish Leader was further emphasised in a manner well calculated to hasten another of Mr. O'BRIEN'S periodical resignations. Two Nationalists were co-opted by the elected members but not before an absurd and ineffectual attempt had been made by the O'BRIENITES to prevent the voice of the people prevailing in that matter. They objected to the method of co-option, which was the same method that had been invariably followed heretofore by the Council. The voting on the question raised was interesting as showing the strength of the two parties to be 28 Nationalists as against 19 O'BRIENITES. To the chair and vice-chair two Nationalists were unanimously elected and every evidence was afforded that the overwhelming majority of those on the Council are keen, ardent and enthusiastic believers in and supporters of the great statesman who is leading the National fight to victory. After the elections of chairman and vice-chairman a resolution was, by 29 votes to 13, adopted declaring the unswerving confidence of the Council in Mr. REDMOND and the Irish Party and congratulating them "on the triumphant third and final reading of the Home Rule Bill in the House of Commons, which neither the treachery of Mr. O'BRIEN and his factionist followers, nor the threats of Sir EDWARD CARSON can now prevent passing into law." Cork County, it will thus be seen, has come back to its old allegiance in no half-hearted or indifferent manner. It has come to realise the error of its ways in supporting the hare-brained "policy" of Mr. O'BRIEN and it has taught what ought be a salutary lesson to "the great resigner," who can resign himself to anything but to majority rule.

LIMERICK THIRD ORDER

THE ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

The Limerick members of the Third Order of St. Francis are to have their annual pilgrimage on Sunday, 5th proximo. This year they are to visit the Old Franciscan Abbey at Askeaton, where a religious service appropriate to the occasion will be held. Subsequently the party will proceed to Foynes, where the evening will be spent previous to returning home by the special train which has been chartered for the pilgrimage.

DEATH OF A '48 MAN

The death of Mr. Patrick O'Connell, of Kilmannhan, in his 94th year (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent), removes another from the few now living who threw in their lot with the men of '48. The deceased, who was a native of Knocknasna, Abbeyfeale, was intimately acquainted with the history of the '48 Movement in West Limerick under "Danneen Dan," and was personally associated with the rebel chief in some of the incidents which marked his career.

THE PEOPLE'S MOTOR.

The "Shannon" Moto-Cycle, 120 miles to gallon spirit, 2 to 30 miles per hour. Climbs Bradford hill with a little peddaling help, £19, or own bicycle converted, £13 10s. COLE, NELSON & CO., Ltd.

Mescal, Hanrahan—17.

For Crawley—M'Inerney, Lynch, Daly, Crowley, Brohan, Sexton, Linnane, Daly, Barry, Bourke, Nagle, Bourke, Hannon, and Hanrahan—14.

The Chairman declared Mr. M'Guire and Mr. Murphy duly elected.

Mr. Murphy returned thanks, and hoped he would give satisfaction on the Council.

Mr. Crowley also returned thanks to his supporters. There were a few members who had disappointed him, and he would leave them for subsequent consideration.

Mr. M'Guire also returned thanks for his co-option.

THE CHAIRMANSHIP.

Mr. Mescal had great pleasure in proposing that Mr. James O'Regan be re-elected chairman. Mr. O'Regan had filled the chair for the past twelve months and in previous years with conspicuous ability. Now, in this historic year no better man could fill the chair, and he hoped his election would be unanimous.

Mr. T. J. Burke seconded.

There being no other candidate proposed, Mr. O'Regan declared himself elected.

Mr. J. K. Kett was unanimously re-elected vice-chairman.

THE CLARE MURDER

RE-TRIAL OF PRISONERS

FIXED IN NISI PRIUS COURT

APPLICATION BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Yesterday morning, in Nisi Prius Court No. 1, the Attorney-General made an application to Mr. Justice Dodd in reference to the re-trial of Patrick Ryan and Patrick Hegarty, who are on remand, charged with the murder of John Klidea on the night of the 30th November, 1913. The first trial of the accused occupied three full days of last week, and the jury disagreed. When the prisoners were put back it was understood that their next trial would take place in Cork, but it was decided not to change the present venue. The prisoners were in court, guarded by warders and police. The Attorney-General, with whom were Mr. A. M. Hennessy, K.C., and Mr. Bearden, was instructed by Mr. Cullinan, Crown Solicitor, Co. Clare. Mr. P. Lynch, K.C., and Mr. M. Kenny, who represented the accused at the recent trial, were present.

The Attorney-General applied that notice of trial of this case, which had been served for the 25th June inst, should be set down. The necessity for the application to set down the case was by reason of the rule the judges had made for the discharge of public business, and in order that it might be tried during the present sittings in his humble opinion he thought it was essential that the case should be tried as speedily as possible, not only in the interests of justice, but of the prisoners themselves. He thought that Thursday, the 25th inst, and two following days would give ample time for the trial.

Mr. Justice Dodd—I don't suppose Mr. Lynch, you have any right to speak, but I would like to hear your view.

Mr. Lynch—I am much obliged for your courtesy, my lord; I have no objection to the trial taking place as the court directs.

Mr. Justice Dodd said the rule about setting down cases was one made by the judges for their own convenience in order to see the amount of work so that it could be properly adjusted. But everything that applies to an ordinary case should also apply to a case in which a man is charged with an offence in which the punishment is capital, and when the law officer or the Crown comes and asks for an immediate trial it is so clearly in the interests of justice that he had no hesitation in acceding to the application. He would put the case in the list for trial on Thursday, 25th June.

Mr. Lynch, K.C., asked that the prisoners be sent to Limerick Jail in the interval, and his lordship acceded to the application.

Mr. Justice Boyd warned the county common jurors that a large attendance would be required on Thursday, 25th instant. Fines might possibly be inflicted to the extent of £50 on absent jurors.

The prisoners were then removed.