Boyd's and she used bring his breakfast, and in that way she had access to the room of witness.

Evidence as to arrest and to the pawning of the boots having been given, the accused pleaded guilty, and she was let out under the First Offenders Act.

Joseph Buckner, Roxboro' Road, was charged with a breach of the Licensing Laws, on Sunday, 31st May. Mr P J O'Sullivan, solicitor, appeared for the defendant.

Constable Kelleghan gave evidence of going to the door of defendant's premises when he heard footsteps inside; witness knocked and there was a delay in opening the door; witness asked was there anyone inside who were not entitled to be there; defendant said not except his two brothers-in-law who were invited by him; there were some measures in the bar to which there was access by the back door; previous to Mr. Buckner getting the premises the magistrates refused to sign the certificate and ordered the wall to be built around the garden adjoining the premises; some of those sleepers were missing and there was free access into the premises by the back.

Joseph Buckner deposed that the two persons found on the premises were bona-fide travellers; the boundary wall was now in the same condition as when he bought the premises; he did not remove any of the sleepers, and it was impossible to have access to the premises by the back.

The two men found on the premises deposed that they were invited guests, and had no drink.

The magistrates dismissed the case against the publican, and also against the two men found on the premises.

Mrs. Johannah O'Sullivan, William-street, who was charged with a breach of the Licensing Laws by supplying drink to Thomas Russell, on Sunday, 31st May, was fined 20s. and costs, and Russell was fined 2s. 6d.

Mary Lane, Wickham-street, was also charged with a breach of the Licensing Laws on Sunday, 7th June.

A man named Fitzgibbon was found on the premises.

The defence was that the man was an invited guest.

The majority of the magistrates were for convicting, and the publican was fined 10s, the man found on the premises being fined 2s 6d and costs.

Owen Ryan, William-street, was charged with being the occupier of premises in William-street and with having allowed three calves, the property of Mr. O'Grady, Feakle, County Clare, to be removed to Blackwater recently, contrary to the Cattle Diseases Regulations. It will be remembered that Mr. O'Grady was fined for being the owner of the calves and with permitting them to be removed from the city to Feakle.

Mr. Ryan was fined 5s and costs.

Bonhams in Barrels

ATTEMPT TO EVADE CATTLE RESTRICTIONS

An attempt was made by some parties on Wednesday to evade the Cattle Restrictions Order by conveying bonhams in barrels, placed

Quain had a stone of about 12lbs weight in his hand; he did not see him throw it, but saw his hand raised; the old man was within eight yards of him; T Quain threw stones at witness, who had to duck and dodge around to avoid them.

Cross-examined by Mr. Power—You are a very wealthy farmer, Mr. Moloney? I am fairly well off.

Mr. M'Entee, D.J., stated that Kennedy for some reason vacated the 40 acres. Are you aware that he vacated it in deference to local opinion? No.

And after that you came and took it? Five miles away I had a grazing on the Roche-Kelly estate for twelve years.

Of course you did not care two pence for the people there? I do; I have plenty friends there.

You told everything that happened for and against on this occasion? I described it as well as I remember.

And you have no animus against Kennedy or those people? No.

And all you got was a small blow on the face? I got several blows; I did not get a fair fight, but I think I gave more than I got; if I got a fair fight—

Does it demonstrate your love for the man when you issue a writ? They may not take my life—

Is the object of the writ to defend your life or to make a pauper of him? On the advice of my solicitor.

Have you told a word of the revolver you drew on this occasion? I am not asked that question.

Is that your attitude—you are sworn to tell the truth—that you are not to tell things in favour of the defendants except you are asked? I am entitled to protect my life.

Mr. Power—And to withhold from the Bench material evidence.

Mr. Roche—The evidence of—Mr. Moloney is what they did to him.

Another Magistrate—Did he use the revolver?

Mr. Power—No, but very near it.

The Magistrate—Did he pull it out?

Mr. Power—Yes, and put his finger to the trigger.

Mr. Moloney said he did not deny it.

Further answering Mr. Power, witness was understood to say that the last time he met Mr. Robert Barry the latter did not salute him.

He met you in the publichouse? He did not return the salute, I nodded to him.

Before Kennedy struck you did you say anything to Kennedy abusive of him and the people of the district? Absolutely nothing.

Do you remember Robert Barry stating to you, "Is not it a wonder you are not afraid of yourself down in those parts?" He never made that remark.

And you did not say in reply, "Who would be afraid of the cowardly pack in Caherelly?" Absolutely false.

If Barry swears it? A lie and untruth.

After the stroke by Kennedy, which we deny, it was a collar and elbow business? I was strenuously engaged at the moment.

And finally ye broke away without doing much harm and went to the road? Yes.

I put it to you that when on the road you deliberately and unprovoked pulled a revolver out, pointed it at the man, and put your finger to the trigger? No.

Whom did you point the revolver at? I did not point the revolver until such time as those men attacked me with stones.

How did you point it? I can't tell you.

Would you be surprised to hear that the stones were taken up by the men to defend themselves from you and your revolver; would that be lies for Barry? It would be a great surprise to me.

And it would be untrue to state that he (Barry) went between your revolver and those people and made you put down your revolver, and those people the stones? It would be untrue.

Did he interfere at all? No.

How did you escape? By a miracle (laughter).

I thought so? If they got me down they would beat in my skull.

And three would not be able to put you down? There were ten there.

And you beat them all? I am alive still, anyhow.

Don't you know if they wished to hurt you they could have done it? Did anyone come to your rescue? No one came to my assistance.

Mr. Power—Although your life was in danger, and here you are to-day without a scratch.

Answering Mr. M'Entee, witness said he got clear of Kennedy and tried to get to his
