

properly fixed, would often save by preventing a person from walking into and falling into the water.

Dr. Jerome Henry Counihan, Ennis, said he had examined the body of Joseph Quinn; it was that of a well-made and well-nourished man of about 30 years; there were no marks of external violence except an abraded wound of the conjunctive of the left eye, which was probably caused before death; the appearance of the skin of the body would suggest that he had been alive when he reached the water, while that of the hands and feet would suggest that he had been in the water for several hours; the heart was healthy, but the right of the great veins were engorged with blood; this would indicate death by asphyxia; the lungs were ballooned and engorged, and were full of frothy, watery fluid; this was also found in the air passages and in the mouth; this condition would show that the deceased met his death by asphyxia, due to drowning; he examined the stomach, which did not present the appearance of a man who had taken intoxicants; it presented the appearance of that of a man who had not drunk to excess; the wound on the eye would not have stunned him, though it might have blinded him for a minute or so; in witness's opinion death was due to drowning.

This closed the evidence, and, after consultation, the jury found that Quin died from accidental drowning, having been found drowned in the river outside the quay, but there was no evidence to show how or at what time he got into the river. They added the following rider:—"The jury are strongly of opinion that the quay at Clarecastle should be protected by mooring chains supported on pillars, and we call on the Harbour Board and the Board of Trade to have this carried out without delay."

The remains were removed on Wednesday evening to Dundalk, where the interment took place. A very large concourse of people joined in the funeral cortege from the church to the railway station. As a mark of respect to Mr. Quin's memory the usual parades of the Volunteers did not take place on Tuesday or Wednesday nights.

A singular fatality occurred at Foynes on yesterday. A man named Michael Murphy, of Killadysert, Co. The City Strike

SETTLEMENT ARRIVED AT

The strike at Messrs. J. and G. Boyd's, William-street, Limerick, and which has been in existence since February last, has been amicably arranged. A number of the men are to resume work within the next few days, and the remainder as vacancies occur. The conference was the result of an application from the men for a reconsideration of their case, and Father Mangan, Spiritual Director of the Confraternity, intervened in effecting a settlement. The picketing at Messrs. Boyd's establishment ceased yesterday.

Herbertstown Volunteers.

A meeting of above was held on Sunday, re-affiliation. Mr. P. K. Hogan, J.P., M.C.C., President, addressed those present at some length, advising all the young men of the parish to join. He hoped if the time for action arose they would acquit themselves with as much distinction as their forerunners of Land League fame who fought for their homes and the cause of peasant proprietorship. It was unanimously decided to affiliate as the question of control has been amicably settled. The company expect to be partly uniformed before the next meeting. Drills, marches, etc., were arranged for the week, after which the meeting adjourned.—WILLIAM M. CONDON, Hon. Sec.

Kilkee Volunteers

At a meeting of the Kilkee Volunteers corps held in the Sports Field on Sunday, the following resolution, proposed by Rev. J. A. Moloney, C.C., and seconded by Dr. C. C. Hickey, was enthusiastically adopted:—"As all free men have a right to bear arms in defence of their liberties, and as the Arms Proclamation is a clear interference with this right as far as the people of Ireland are concerned, we resolve that we, the people of Kilkee, are determined to demand the withdrawal of the Proclamation."

Ennis Volunteers

At the usual weekly meeting of the Ennis Brian Boru Volunteers held at the Drill Hall on Tuesday night, Mr. Michael Collins, V.P., presiding, the following resolution was proposed by Mr. John Kerin, U.C., and seconded by Mr. John Ryan:—"That we, the members of the Ennis Brian Boru Volunteers, call on the Government to repeal the Arms Proclamation Acts, as we think it an insult to National Ireland. Considering that the Volunteers of the North are allowed to carry arms freely and without being in the least way challenged or interrupted, we are strongly of opinion that the Proclamation should be immediately withdrawn, inasmuch as the Nationalists of Ireland are acting constitutionally and within the meaning of law and order, and are a body formed for the protection of life and property, and on this account it is only reasonable to think that this objectionable Proclamation should be revoked. That copies of this resolution be forwarded to our local boards; the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. J. E. Redmond, M.P., the members for the county, and to the Press."

It was unanimously decided to sever all connection with the Belfast merchants if Ulster persists in her attitude of opposition to the Home Rule Bill.

GUN RUNNING RUMOUR

It is asserted, that on Sunday week a cargo of arms, supposed to be from the Tipperary Men's Association in America, was landed on the County Galway coast. Afterwards they were brought by night by easy stages by Volunteers in the Co. Galway through Gort, Woodfort, and Williamstown, reaching the latter village on Saturday night last. Here the arms were received by a number of Volunteers from the Tipperary side of Lough Derg, and in the course of the night they were transferred by boat to Ferryglass. Next day, while the Volunteers of North Tipperary were mobilised at Nenagh, and while the police of the district were on special duty in that town, the arms were hidden in a bog close to where they were landed. It was only when they were well under cover that the information leaked out. In view of the above rumour, it is interesting to note, that when the Nenagh Corps on Wednesday evening were being dismissed they were informed that they would be in possession of rifles next week.
