THE LATE POPE.

County Council References.

At the meeting of the Limerick County Council to-day, Mr W. R. Gubbins, J.P. (Chairman), presiding, said the Council as a National and Catholic body met under a great cloud. The Catholic world mourned the death of the Holy Father the Pope. Probably amongst the long succession of Popes there had been no more excellent Vicar to guide the destinies of the Church than Pius X. He was a great Churchman, and above all he showed a remarkable love for the poor. It was the duty of that Council to move a vote of sympathy with the Lord Bishop of the Limerick diocese on the loss the Church had sustained by the death of the Pontiff, and, further, in conformity with other public bodies, to adjourn the Council as a mark of respect to his memory.

Mr J Coleman proposed the following—“That we the members of the Limerick County Council desire to express our profound sorrow at the death of his Holiness the Pope, and we hereby adjourn this Council as a mark of respect to his saintly memory.”

Mr A Mackey seconded the resolution, which was passed, and copies ordered to be transmitted to his Grace the Archbishop of Cashel and Emly, the Most Rev Dr Harty, his Lordship Most Rev Dr O'Dwyer, and his Lordship Most Rev Dr Fogarty.

The Council then adjourned.

DEATH OF MR PATRICK COSTELLOE.

The death of Mr Patrick Costelloe which took place at his residence, Upper Mallow Street, on Thursday night, has occasioned deep regret in the city. Mr Costelloe, who was in his sixty-seventh year, had been ailing for some time, and his demise was not unexpected. He was for many years connected with the Inland Revenue branch of the public services in the city, and retired on pension a few years ago. He was a native of the County, and in the discharge of his duties he showed conspicuous ability. By his colleagues he was held in the very highest esteem and also by the public. He was a courteous and obliging officer, and a never-failing friend. He leaves a widow and family to mourn his loss which will be shared by the general public. The remains were transferred to St. Michael's R.C. Church last night, and the interment took place to-day in the family burial place, Anhid, Croom.

KING GEORGE AND M. POINCARE.

President Poincaré, on the occasion of his birthday, has received from King George a telegram conveying his sincere and cordial good wishes, and expressing His Majesty's firm conviction that success will attend the arms of the two peoples in the great struggle against the common enemy, and that the war will be carried, in concert with the other Allies, to a satisfactory issue. In his reply President Poincaré says:—I thank Your Majesty for your cordial wishes, and I beg you to accept a fresh assurance of my friendship. I have the same confidence as Your Majesty in the issue of the war, which we shall

GLIN PETTY SESSIONS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Mr P D Sullivan, R.M., and Mr Thomas Pegum presided at Glin Petty Sessions yesterday. Constable Courtney, Loughill, summoned men named Thomas Costello and Patrick Sullivan for being on the licensed premises of The O'Shaughnessy on Sunday, 26th July.

The constable deposed to seeing the men in the yard and the other coming out of it. Costello, who was previously fined for this of offence, was fined 5s and costs, and Sullivan 2s 6d and costs.

Sergeant Butler summoned Joseph Carro allowing a donkey, his property, to be while in an unfit state.

Evidence having been given, the defendant fined 5s and costs.

Sergeant Butler summoned two men for drunk and disorderly by fighting on Sunday, 2nd August.

One of the defendants pleaded there had a parade of Volunteers earlier in the day.

Mr Sullivan,—Are you a Volunteer? Defendant—I am.

Mr Sullivan—I know it is the custom in places to expel from the ranks any one guilty of drunkenness.

Sergeant Butler—It is done in Glin, too. Worship. He has been expelled.

Defendants were each fined 2s 6d and costs. An old age pensioner was summoned and convicted for drunkenness, and fined 1s and warned by the Chairman not to appear a record would be made of the conviction. He would lose his pension for six months.

Glin District Council, through their Mr Windle, charged Joseph Sullivan for forcible possession of a labourer's cottage, order by the magistrates of 20th May empowering Council to evict, was produced against defendant against
