

CERT AT THEATRICALS AT ADARE.

most enjoyable concert and dramatic entertainment took place at the Village Hall, Adare, Thursday night, under the auspices of the Cook City and County United Aid League. There was a very large attendance, and apart from the high standard attained by the performers, the object for which the entertainment was staged enlisted the support of the people of the district. For a long time the United Aid League has been working in our midst, and it is natural that their efforts should meet with hearty applause in the city and county. The programme opened with a vocal item by Mr. J. B. Harrison, who sang with feeling and expression the well-known composition "Mountain Road," for which he was heartily encored. Miss O'Brien gave a finished rendering of "Sink the Sun," and was the recipient of a well-deserved encore. She also contributed the "Belgium Anthem" which was vociferously applauded. Mr. J. B. Harrison gave two stirring songs "Here we are again," "Good-bye Boys," which kept the audience in excellent spirits. He was rewarded with an imperative encore, and responded with a world-wide ballad "It's a long way to the fair" was sung by Mrs. Jack Hartigan in a simple fashion, and evoked loud applause. She then, and in response to further calls she sang "I am o' day Jill," a pretty little number. Mr. Clifford sang "The Deathless Army" with spirit, and "Bashful Tom." The song "Our King and Country Need You" was given by Mr. White, and the message which it conveyed received with a great outburst of applause. Its Morony's song was "A Quaker Girl," which created an impression, while an "Irish Song" was contributed by Miss Nora Hogan who was also the recipient of deserved applause. The instrumental side of the programme was represented by Mr. Paul Bernard, I.S.M., whose violin "Maritana" was given with faultless technique. Mr. Bernard acted as conductor, and under his supervision every detail conducive to a successful entertainment worked out with smoothness. A dramatic piece enacted was "Dick's Story" in one act. It was a cleverly contrived comedy with a motive, and afforded plenty of opportunity for histrionic ability. The role of "The Frazer" (a young authoress), was played with skill by Miss Eily Fitzmaurice, while Mr. R. J. Sweeney portrayed her brother's friend, "Dick Ham," with a nice conception of the demands incidental to a cleverly drawn role. The next concert was organised under the aegis of the League and took place at Croom on Tuesday night.
