DEATH OF SECOND LIUT. WM. B. OWENS.

With very sincere regret we record the death which occurred on Sunday night at the residence of his parents, Hazeldean, Limerick, of Second Lieut. William Brabazon Owens, Royal Engineers, eldest son of Mr and Mrs W H Owens. He was a Villiers School boy, and an excellent scholar, one of the most promising. Here he won many prizes and exhibitions in connection with the Intermediate, and some time later he proceeded to Campbell College, Belfast, where, amongst other honours, he won the gold medal in mathematics. Entering Trinity College, Dublin, he pursued his brilliant course, carrying off a Surveyors Institute scholarship, of which there are but four in the United Kingdom. When he had completed two years study in engineering the war broke out, and young Owens promptly offered his services for King and country. He procured a commission in the Royal Engineers, and after training was sent to the front, where, as he reported some time ago, he was wounded in action. He returned home to Limerick to recuperate his health, and after some time was reported fit for light duty, which he was about to take up, but unhappily was stricken by an attack of peritonitis. An operation was performed on Sunday, and despite all that the best medical skill could do, Lieutenant Owens passed away on Sunday night to the great grief of his parents and relatives and very many friends, by whom he was beloved for his bright and amiable disposition, and manly traits of character. The cutting short on the threshold of manhood of a career so full of promise is sincerely mourned, and deep sympathy is expressed by the citizens with his family in the great loss they have sustained.

The Funeral.

Full military honours were accorded the burial of the gallant officer, which took place in St Mary's Cathedral this morning. At 10 o'clock the funeral left Hazeldean, and was headed by a firing party of the 4th Leinsters, followed by the band of the regiment playing Chopin's Funeral March. Next came the gun carriage bearing the coffin, which was wrapped in the Union Jack, on which were laid the sword, belt, and cap of the deceased. The chief mourners followed, and were succeeded by a detachment of the rank and file of the Leinsters and officers of the battalion. Next walked the general public, which included a large and representative body of the citizens, who were present to pay a final tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased, a young gentleman, with whose family the greatest sympathy is felt in the loss they have sustained. On reaching the Cathedral the band ceased playing, and the coffin was borne to the grave-side by six sergeants of the Leinster Regiment, the firing party taking up a position a short distance away, with the buglers close by.

The Rev R H Semple officiated, and was assisted by the Rev E H Williamson. At the close of the service the Rev Mr Semple said that it would be a pity to let that occasion pass without saying a word in tribute to the young man and brave soldier, whose premature decease they were all mourning. He was a Limerick boy, educated first of all in the Villiers Endowed School, where he won many prizes, and gave promise of exceptional ability. Passing to a much greater school in Belfast, he fulfilled the expectations formed of him, and gained the highest distinction. On leaving school, he entered Trinity College, Dublin, where a brilliant engineering career was interrupted by his deep desire to serve his country in the hour of her need. So fine a student, already having had considerable military training in the Officers' Training Corps of Campbell College and of Dublin University, was gladly given a commission in the Royal Engineers; and after brief training he was sent to the front, where he was wounded in action in Flanders. Having recovered from his wounds in hospital, he was sent home to regain his strength, but before he was entirely restored a fatal illness seized him, and he passed away suddenly in the flower of his years. Alike at school, at College, and among his friends he was admired for his ability, respected for his uprightness, and beloved for his gentleness, manliness, and modesty. He (the speaker) had seen him on Saturday last, and was much impressed with his cheerfulness and unselfishness even in the midst of pain. Very early, while still a lad at school, he had given evidence of piety, and he became a member of the Church, to which his family belonged, in full Communion. They sorrowed exceedingly that a life so richly endowed had been cut off, and that their city was now the poorer by the loss of one of her brightest sons. They sympathised with his bereaved parents and relatives, especially with his brother now at the front, who could not be with them that day to stand by his older brother's grave. But they believed in God; and they committed them all to Him whose wisdom never errs, whose compassion cannot fail.

The firing party then discharged three volleys, and the sounding of the "Last Post" denoted the final phase of the honours accorded to the gallant lieutenant. The chief mourners were—William H Owens (father), Joseph H Owens and Richard A Owens (brothers), Wm Owens (grand-father), S Tanner (uncle), J W Wheatley, and W B McCarthy. (relatives). Amongst the general public were—Sir Vincent Nash, D.L.; T S Lawlor, High Sheriff; J G Wilkinson, F C Cleve, D.L.; A Cleve, A Murray, R F Davison, County Surveyor; H V Morony, C.E.; A J Barnett, Captain Sir Francis Kearney, A Woodhouse, P R Toppin, A J Hayes, V J Turner, Manager National Bank; F E O'Donnell, solr; Dr Humphreys, M Slater, J Dodds, solr; Rev Canon Waller, Rev V D Sutcliffe, J J Haertray, W Holliday, J P Begley, J McNamara, D.C.; L Nestor, M Caffrey, B Coyle, S O'Meara, Sergeant-Major Rahilly, J Byrne, P Rookby, G Goodwin, T Ledger, W J Horne, F Mitchell, J Quinn, J P A Hill, T Gilbert, A Wyld, W M Kidd, W H Thompson, J M Dowling, F A Johnston, J A Doyle, solr; C E Brill, solr; M Egan, B E F Sheehy, C K; J J Quaid, Secretary Co Council; M Fitzgerald, Assistant do; J H Page, J Johnson, B A; J T Gale, M Spain, A M De Prins, O H Pitt, J Staack, J B Wangh, P Griffiths, J W A Harris, Alderman P Dillon, W M Nolan, J P Town Clerk; A E Goodwin, J Wallace, S Flynn, J H Paul, A H Baldwin, W H Walpole, J F Power, J Chane, A J Eakin, J P W Webb, T Grab, E Christy, W Harriott, R A Harriet, J Joynt, J G Angley, F Harriott, R Walsh, Solicitor; J H Roche, J P T B Brett, Manager, Munster and Leinster Bank; W Tewis, Agent, Bank of Ireland; W J McNab, E Kidd, J R Danard, P O'Sullivan, solicitor; J Thomson, Manager, Ulster Bank; T Kidd, E G Stokes, E G Pitt, W Dunne, F Despard, J S Gaffney, Crown Solicitor; J E Galbraith, E L Wickham, E A Wickham, W B Smith, W Metcalfe, C Hill, Dr P F Grahsm, P O'Flynn, B.C.; T Holliday, E Toppin.

The following were the wreaths—"In loving memory from father and mother"; "In loving memory from Arnold, Harry, and Aubrey"; "With loving sympathy from Mxy and Sam"; "With deepest sympathy from Colonel Sir Anthony Weldon, Bart. and Officers of the 4th Leinster Regiment"; "In loving memory from Mr and Mrs A Barrett"; "With deepest sympathy from the Office Staff"; "To sympathy from Mr and Mrs R Davison"; "To sympathy with love from Mr and Mrs John"; "To dear Willie, from Gwynn and the Villiers Endowed School"; "With sincere sympathy from Mr and Mrs F Mitchell."
