KILRUSH URBAN DISTRICT COUNCIL.

The monthly meeting of the Kilrush Urban District Council, Mr Wm Carmody, J.P., presiding.

Other members present were—Messrs J. J. Nagle, Harry Keller, Michael Crotty, and Mr Edward Counihan, Council's Legal Advisor.

As soon as the proceedings commenced, Mr Nagle said it was with the deepest feelings of regret he proposed the adjournment of the meeting as a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs Boyle, wife of Mr P J Boyle, the respected editor of the "Kilrush Herald." The news of Mrs Boyle's death came as a shock to the inhabitants of the town, and he sincerely sympathised with Mr Boyle and his family in their bereavement. He proposed to propose a vote of condolence, which Mr Michael Crotty, in seconding Mr Nagle's motion, regretted the necessity for such a resolution. He felt sorry for Mr Boyle in his sad bereavement.

Mr Carmody—I can only say what I expressed at the Guardians meeting on Saturday. Mr Keller, in similarly feeling terms, associated himself with the resolution.

Mr Counihan, who also desired to be identified with the resolution. Mr Murphy, Mr Watson, Mr Lennihan, and Mr Kelly (officials) identified themselves with the resolution, and the Council then adjourned.
