ANY'S RAIDING POLICY.

French Raid on Essen.

Times" says :- It would be interesting what the Germans really think about the policy. The German Admiralty keep for the last. At the very end of the que they admit two airships fell victims. Useful German patriot cannot fail to be l by the fact, and by its significance. The ve two ends in view—to do military and to strike terror into the population. They have altogether 1 both. There is a third object. ay keep up amongst the Ger- asses the illusion that awful devas- being inflicted upon the enemy held up special execration. That is an illusion ul to the German Government at a time ws from all fronts grows more and more when the privations caused by the becme more and more stringent, and Imperial Treasury is exhausting itself s to boom the patriotic loan. rench raid on Essen is a record for our the distance covered was five hundred The French report states that bombs own on factories. The German version t contradict this, but it describes the damage as unimportant. Krupp is Essen, n is a fair subject for attack, if attacks able on open towns at all.
