

It appeared from the evidence that the deceased was taken on board one of the Canal boats at the Twelfth Lock, some distance from Dublin, for the purpose of being given food. He remained on board and got ill on the journey. At Portunna he went to hospital. Subsequently he wanted to rejoin the vessel, but was refused permission by the captain. In an attempt to get on board he fell into the water, and was picked up and conveyed to Limerick, where he died, as stated, on Monday morning.

Dr McGrath expressed the opinion that death was due to heart failure, the deceased having probably contracted pneumonia as a result of his immersion in the water.

A verdict in accordance with the medical testimony was returned.

DEATH OF MR A. ROWAND.

We regret to announce the death of Mr Andrew Rowand, which took place at his residence, Upper Mallaw street, on Saturday evening. The deceased had been at business up to half-past two on Saturday, and left in apparent good health. In the course of a few hours he took ill, and died some time later. He was in his sixtieth year, and was for a period of twenty-nine years manager of Messrs White and Co.'s wine merchants establishment, George street. He was a very capable business man, painstaking and courteous, and enjoyed the esteem and confidence of his employers. His death has caused general regret among a wide circle of friends, who tender their sincerest sympathy to his widow and family in their bereavement.

The funeral took place yesterday at one o'clock for St. Munchin's. It was attended by a large and representative cortege. The chief mourners were—R. Rowand (son), Messrs Gibson (nephews), and Messrs Lalor and Lloyd, and the office staff.

The Rev. R. H. Semple officiated. Dean Hackett and Canon Robertson also attended.

EAST CLARE ASSAULT CASE.

(Before Judge Bodkin, K.C.)

Two young men named Michael and John Tuohy, brothers, living in the Feakle district, were charged with having assaulted and caused bodily harm to Michael and Daniel Moroney, on the 23th June.

Mr F. F. Cullinan, C.S. prosecuted.

Mr Sheehy, B.L. (instructed by Mr J. H. Moran, solr., Limerick), appeared for the defendants.

Dr O'Halloran gave evidence that he was called to attend to M. Moroney. He found him in bed with two large wounds on the left side of the head, and four smaller wounds on the top of his head. He had a wound on his left cheek. One of the two large wounds was about three and a half inches long, and the other was about two and a half inches. He probed the big wound and found it extended to the bone, which he found was fractured. The two and a half inch wound he also probed. He found it extended to the bone but the bone was not fractured. He examined Daniel Moroney and found he had two wounds on the top of his head, over the bone; one of these wounds was three inches long, and the other two and a half inches long. Both wounds went to the bone. He treated the Moroneys until the 10th of July.

The injuries for which you treated those boys were such, I presume, doctor, that you considered their lives in danger?—I took a very serious view of Michael Moroney's wounds.

As a matter of fact, has he yet recovered from this thing?—I think not.

Other evidence was heard, and his Honor said it was simply marvellous that the man Moroney was not killed. It was only the mercy of God Recognised by the Allies.

Reuter's Agency is officially informed that the Entente Powers have formally recognised the Provisional Government of Greece in the Island of Crete. The Consuls of Allied Powers at Canea have received instructions to act in unison in this matter. It is only in Crete that the question of official recognition has yet arisen.

With regard to the new Cabinet at Athens, there is no information in official quarters in London that it has been officially recognised by the Entente Powers.

ROLL OF HONOUR.

Lieut H E Horan.

Lieutenant H E Horan, D.S.C., R.N., has been promoted to the command of H.M.S. Archer. This gallant officer was in the Heligoland fight, and got the first naval decoration in the war. We congratulate him on his promotion.

Second-Lieut C R Horan.

Second-Lieutenant C R Horan, who was severely wounded in France, on 30th June last, is now convalescent and on temporary duty with a home battalion of his Regiment—the Royal Munster Fusiliers. Both are sons of Mr John Horan, ex-County Surveyor, Limerick.

The Late Lieut F. Moran.

The following particulars have been received by Rev F Moran, Ballynahinch, regarding the circumstances of the death of his son, Lieutenant Frank Moran, Royal Munster Fusiliers, who was killed in Action on the 23rd August. Major A. W. Blockley writes to say:—"We were holding advanced trenches under very heavy shell fire—the C.O. was wounded (since died), I was wounded, and Captain Fletcher, who was your son's company commander, and who intended to write to you, was killed a few days later. There is little to tell you as to your son's death. We were under very heavy shell fire, and your boy was badly hit by high explosive. He died on his way to the field ambulance, and is buried in the cemetery south-east of Mametz Wood. He was buried by the Church of England chaplain attached to the field ambulance, and his grave is marked by a cross bearing his name. He was a most promising young officer, always keen and full of go, and lately he had been taking a very active part in running our machine guns. His loss is regretted by all." The following tributes have also been received:—"A corporal who served under him writes: "Your loss is ours also, for your son by his fine manly qualities, by his knowledge as an officer, endeared himself to all. To use our own expression, "He was one of the best." But more dear still was his kindly smile and cheerful word, which is the soldier's greatest friend." Another of those who served under him says: "I thought I would let you know how dearly he was loved and respected as a perfect gentleman and a God-fearing man. He was in the same company as I was, and as I was in the signallers I used to see him every hour of the day, and very often I disturbed him at night with messages, but I never paid him a visit without seeing a kindly smile to greet me. All the officers and men valued and loved him, and England has lost one of her best. He has left many a friend who mourn his great loss." Lieut Moran, was born in Adare, County Limerick.

Medical Officer for the Front.

At the meeting of the Scariff Board of Guardians, a letter was received from Dr P. J. Holmes, Annacora, Ga. Dispensary District, stating he is anxious to give his services to the army for the for munitions.
