binding, or that they were ultra vires or in restraint of trade; and they contended that under the rules the present dispute should be referred to arbitration by the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society, and that the Court had no jurisdiction.

Mr Justice Barton held the agreement to be bound by the rules passed by the Society invalid and not binding on the plaintiff on the ground of being unreasonably in restraint of trade, and he made an order declaring the rules complained of by the plaintiff not binding on him.

FUNERAL OF MRS A GRAHAM, COONAGH.

The remains of the late Mrs Anne Graham, whose death took place on Monday at her residence, Coonagh, were interred yesterday in Mount St Lawrence Cemetery. The deceased lady, who had been ailing only a week, was the wife of Mr M Graham, and daughter of the late Mr John Hickey, Coonagh. She was of a kindly, affable, and charitable disposition, and her demise in the prime of life has caused a great affliction to her husband and relatives. On Tuesday evening the remains were removed to Meelick R.C Church, where Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday morning, and at 2 o'clock the funeral left for the last resting place. The cortege was of very large proportions, and was a striking tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased lady, and expressed the sympathy shown to her husband in his bereavement.

The chief mourners were—Michael Graham (husband); John, James, and Matthew Hickey (brothers); Dr Matthew Graham, Patrick Graham John Wixted, John Creed, John McNamara, D.C; John L Keane, solr; Edmond Mitchell, and Robert Holmes (brothers-in-law); George Frost, Co.C; Robert Frost, B.C; J Enright, T Gleeson, T McNamara, D O'Donovan, G Mitchell, W Holmes, C.E; J Gleeson, J Hickey, P McGrath, and P Dundon (relatives).

The clergy present were—Rev Fr Russell, P.P, Parteen; Rev Fr O'Connor, P.P, St Mary's; Rev Fr Madden, Rev Fr Clune, D.D; Rev Fr O'Driscoll, P.P, St Munchin's and Rev Fr Moloney, C.C. do.

Fr Russell officiated at the graveside.

HOUSE RENTS IN WAR TIMES.

The Courts Emergency Powers Act, 1917, which recently received the Royal Assent, has made two amendments in the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War Restrictions) Act, 1915, which are of interest to tenants of houses to which the latter Act applies. A tenant can now recover from the landlord any amount paid in excess of the standard rent fixed by the Act of 1915, and irrecoverable under that Act, at any time within six months from the payment, or from the 10th July, 1917, if the excess was paid before that date, and he may, without prejudice to any other method of recovery, deduct it from rent payable during such six months.

Cases have been mentioned in which landlords or their agents have entered up as arrears in
