

On searching her room he found a quantity of paper similar to that used in the bank notes, a quantity of red and black inks, writing pens, etc.; a large number of shop bills, matches, face creams, oocoo, etc., which appeared to have been recently purchased, and a large revolver. She admitted a number of charges, and stated she began making the tea in February last, when some money she had taken from her wages had run out. Accused was remanded in custody until Friday morning.

KILRUSH PETTY SESSIONS.

Before Mr G H Mercer, R M (in the chair), Mr Wm Carmody, and Mr J A Kelly.

The Kilrush School Attendance Committee at the suit of their Inspector, Mr Simon O'Neill, presented Thomas Hickey of Pound street for failing to send his son regularly to school.

The witness stated the boy had made only 39 days attendance out of 90 and was out working every day. The child's mother had 10s a week reputation allowance.

Fined 1d with 4s 11d costs.

At the suit of the Kilrush Board of Guardians an inmate named Mary Nevin was prosecuted for using abusive language in the Institution towards the landress, Bridget Coughlin, and also for throwing a mug at her.

Mr Edward Counihan, solicitor, appeared for the Guardians.

Defendant was ordered a month in jail.

THE NEW STAR.

Mr F Bennis writes:—"Tuesday night being the 11th 30, I had some friends in admiring the star, which was scintillating greatly and very brightly. Looking south-east, it was in a straight line to the right from Altair. It is interesting to think that light, travelling at the rate of 193,000 miles a second, has taken several months to reach us, and so informs us that a catastrophe has taken place, resulting in a hitherto invisible star becoming visible, and among the stars of the constellation diam. It is probable that
