

of journeys to and fro.

The programme, which was selected with taste, opened with a selection by the Royal Welch choir, which was appreciatively received. A pianoforte solo, "Finlandia," was very capably played by Mr Herbert Jones, who supplied an encore. Mr C St Just, the celebrated singer and entertainer, furnished two very choice numbers, and whistled in his own inimitable style. Mrs Herbert Jones' rendering of the fetching song, "My Ships," was a finished piece of vocalism, and her singing of two numbers from "A Lover of Damascus," was heartily applauded. A duet by Mr St Just and Mr C B Higginson was a captivating item, while Miss Daisy Boland's nicely modulated mezzo voice created a fine impression in the songs "Friend of Mine," and "A Summer Night," given with cello obligato by Mr J Haydn. Gade's delightful works "Allegro Moderato," and "Novelletton" were beautifully rendered by Mr F Muspratt (piano), Mr O Naylor (violin), and Mr J Hayden (cello). Miss R Turner supplied an artistic rendition of the popular song "Oh, Johnnie," while Mr G R Higginson gave a robust and expressive rendering of a very tasteful ballad. As a finale Messrs St Just and Higginson gave a pretty musical sketch, and the entertainments closed with "God Save the King."

About £12 was collected at the door towards the Limerick Prisoners of War Fund.

Reuter's Agency states that a further report concerning the German Emperor has reached London. This telegram states that a neutral, who has arrived from Germany, declares that the peace offer made by Prince Max of Baden was made in direct opposition to the views of the Emperor, and that the latter is expected to abdicate on Saturday. There is no means of verifying the report, which is without any kind of official confirmation.—Reuter.

DEATH OF LIEUT T O'BRIEN. A.V.C.

Official intimation has been received by his relatives in Limerick of the death, in India on Sunday, from pneumonia, of Lieut Thomas O'Brien, Army Veterinary Corps, in his twenty-third year. The sad intelligence has been learned with keen regret by the citizens in general, and the sympathy of the public is extended to his family in their great loss. The deceased, who had a distinguished course in the Royal Veterinary College, Dublin, was admitted a member of the profession this time twelve months, and about six months ago he received a commission in the Army Veterinary Corps, proceeding to India some time afterwards. He was second son of the late Mr T O'Brien, Boru House, and brother of Mr J O'Brien, Auctioneer. He was a bright and intelligent young officer, and a general favourite with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

LIEUTENANT SHEEHAN MISSING.

Captain D. Sheehan, M.P., has been officially notified that his son, Lieut. Martin J. Sheehan, Royal Air Force, who has been flying on the battle front, is missing; but the Air Ministry explains that this does not necessarily mean that he is killed or wounded. In May last year his eldest brother, in the Flying Corps, was killed in action.

WAR HONOURS.

Captain J M Carroll, who, before he joined up in 1915, was on the staff of the Munster and Leinster Bank, Clonmel, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre (with palms) by the French Government for distinguished services.

The award of a bar to the Military Medal to Corporal W Burns, Liverpool Regiment, Tipperary, has been approved by the King.

COUNTY PETTY SESSIONS.

Prosecution by Department of Agriculture.

Mr P J Kelly, R.M., and Mr N Humphreys were the magistrates presiding at the County Petty Sessions today.

Daniel Mulcahy, a farmer, was summoned by the Department of Agriculture for allowing weeds, to wit, thistles, on his lands at Ballydoogh, contrary to the provisions of the Woods and Agricultural Seeds (Ireland) Act, 1909.

Mr Barrett, Inspector to the Department, proved the case.

The defence was that owing to the weather, and the effort to save the hay and corn from rotting, there was delay in carrying out the Order.

Mr Gaffney said the Order was mandatory, and he was surprised the defendant would have allowed such a thing as weed-growing to take place.

Defendant—I thought it better to save the hay and corn than the weeds which were growing on her signal 'S.O.S; torpedoed,' her wireless was put out of gear of a second torpedo. We sent approximate position, and the speed. It was a terrible job to have to run away and leave all to their fate, particularly so as not another ship besides our Leinster. But it was the only colleague would have been to ourselves and our passengers certainly have met the same fate have been a great score for the both in one day, as I understand previously to get both these boats other."

LIMERICK VI

The sinking of the Roy "Leinster" on Thursday brought home to the people of and inhuman methods of war Germans. That the crime has been demised by every section of more than self-evident yesterday which has shared in the misdeeds of Dublin and other parts of the do indignation was expressed at Hannish devilry. Enquiries in that one Limerick family, but have been practically wiped out of the steamer. The name is (circumstances are particularly) The father, who is a retired Artillery at munition work in England, able time past, and on Wednesday who lived at Creagh Lane, Maryhill. They consisted of the mother and one son, ranging in age from twelve months. They travelled from Kingstown, and, as a result, with the exception of the mother, were lost.
