

no time must be lost in sending them the reinforcements that are necessary to enable them to effectively cope with the situation at Archangel and Murmansk.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

To facilitate the closing of accounts, subscribers of the "Chronicle" who have not already done so are requested to remit forthwith subscriptions for the past year.

ATLANTIC FLIGHT DELAY.

The St John's (Newfoundland) Correspondent of "The Times" states, in a message despatched on Sunday, that the date of the attempt to fly across the Atlantic is still undecided. When it will be made depends upon the completion of the machines and the drying of the ground where the aerodrome is situated. This is at present a virtual quagmire, and it will probably not be in a condition for an aeroplane to travel until after several days of warm weather. A snowstorm is raging to-day.

A Start From Limerick

An Exchange Telegraph Company's message states that an aeroplane built by Shortt Brothers, Rochester, will arrive at Limerick on April 15, and a start will be made on the Atlantic flight for Newfoundland on the following day.

It is expected that the journey will be done in 20 hours.

LORD DUNRAVEN.

The Earl of Dunraven, says the "Morning Post," has recovered from a severe attack of influenza and pleurisy, and has left London for Dunraven, Glamorgan.

DEATH OF MR FRANK WAYLAND, J.P.

We regret to observe the announcement of the death of Mr Frank Wayland, J.P., which occurred at his residence, Garville Road, Rathgar, Dublin, yesterday afternoon. Mr Wayland was a native of Cashel, County Tipperary, and the greater part of his life was spent as a reporter in connection with the Dublin "Evening Mail," afterwards becoming chief reporter of the "Mail" and "Daily Express" which position he filled with great ability till failing health compelled him to retire some years ago, since which time he confined himself to the duties of Dublin correspondent of the "Belfast Evening Telegraph." He was a Fellow of the Institute of Journalists and a J.P. for the City of Dublin. With his colleagues of the Press and the public he was very popular, and in this part of the country the news of his demise will be heard of with much regret by many old friends. The earlier portion of the late Mr Wayland's journalistic career was spent in the "Limerick Chronicle" Office.

OUT AND ABOUT

It is announced that Mrs Milling, widow of the late Mr J C Milling, R.M., Wexford, is seriously ill.

County Court Judge Law Smith, K.C., was presented with white gloves at Rathkeale Quarter Sessions, there being no criminal business.

New Ross Harbour Board decided to apply for a portion of the grant in aid for the improvement of harbours and waterways so that the port might be improved.

visited by his mother, his aunt, Mrs T Crowe and his cousins, Mr J Hurley and F Crowe, yesterday morning. They were interrogated by the police, and placed under arrest, what charge it is not known. About 10 o'clock they were removed in a military motor lorry, under a heavy escort, to William's Police Station. As the motor lorry drew up beside the barracks a large crowd congregated cheered the prisoners. The police, it is charged, the crowd with batons, some people being injured.

John Ryan and his wife, in whose house body of Byrne is, as well as the servant man girl, were arrested, and some time later were charged, with Mrs Byrne and Mrs Crowe.

The detained were Thomas Crowe and J. Hurley, who were subsequently lodged in County Prison.

The remains of Constable O'Brien were conveyed to Birr, his native place, by motor car last night for interment to-day. Accompanying remains was a brother of the deceased and a clothes policeman.

Last night and early this morning the police and military continued their search through the district for arms and anything that would lead to the arrest of the raiders.

Further Details

The authorities in Dublin sent down specialists yesterday to report on the condition of Constable Spillane (son of Mr T Spillane, Sergeant R.I.C., Loughrea), one of the police in the fatal raid on Sunday at the Limerick Workhouse. They found the patient holding his head as the phrase goes, and with the aid of the X-rays, it is understood, enabled to locate the position of the bullet. An attempt was made to remove it. The specialists are hopeful of Constable Spillane's convalescence. Yesterday in addition to those mentioned, three men named Michael Doherty, Arthur Johnson, — were placed under arrest, and are still detained in custody.

Compensation Claim

By Constable O'Brien's Widow

Constable O'Brien's widow, it is said, is to claim for £2,000 compensation on account of the death of her husband.

Inquest on Constable O'Brien

An inquest was held in the Boardroom, Lin Workhouse, yesterday, by Dr M. R. Cleary, Coroner for East Limerick, into the circumstances attending the death of Constable Martin O'Brien. District Inspector Craig conducted the enquiry.

The following were sworn on the jury:— Moloney (foreman), Albert Browning, J. Mulcahy, Standish O'Grady, Michael Ker Patrick, McMahon, Patrick Mallins, T. Gleeson, John McNamara, John Quirk, J. Hickey, Patrick Luggan, Thomas Peat Michael Hickey, and Patrick Mulcahy.

District Inspector Craig said as there was a considerable amount of enquiries made, and made, in connection with the matter, evidence to be given, he proposed only to receive formal evidence of identification, and then to adjournment for a week or any date that be convenient.

The Coroner—Whatever day will suit the Do you propose to have a post mortem examination?

District Inspector Craig—I think so.

The Coroner—Is it suggested to have the removed from the Workhouse this evening?