DEATH OF MISS CROSTON.

An Appreciation.

The decease of this lady, which took place on Monday last at Portrush, will cause much regret in this city, where she was so long and well known. Miss Croston spent most of her life in educational work, teaching for a long time at the High School, where she was associated with Miss Mercer, and besides her every day work amongst the young, she took very keen interest in Sunday School teaching at Trinity Church. She had a particularly easy and happy mode of imparting instruction, and was untiring in her desire to help and cheer the young who were fortunate enough to come under her care. She shone particularly at children's services, having a most remarkable and accurate knowledge of Holy Scripture, and a most winning and persuasive manner of impressing the truth on her young hearers, and many have cause to thank God for having been brought under her influence. To all, young and old, she endeared herself by her unselfish and gracious manner, and her manifest desire to serve God in her day and induce others to do so. A devoted daughter, sister, and true friend, she rests from her labours, and her works do follow her.

LIMERICK WORKHOUSE TRAGEDY.

THE LATE MR R J BYRNE.

At the meeting of the Irish National Foresters, Branch Violated Treaty, on Wednesday evening, the officers present being James Bourke, C.R., presiding, J O'Donovan, Sec, J Sexton, S.W. J O'Dowd, J.W, D Nolan, P Moore, etc, on the motion of Bro O'Donovan, seconded by Bro Bourke, a resolution was passed in silence tendering on behalf of the officers and members to Mrs Byrne, her family, and relatives their most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement on the unexpected and tragic death of Mr R J Byrne.

OPERATION ON CONSTABLE SPILLANE.

An operation was performed on Thursday at St Vincent's Hospital on Constable Spillane. The operation was performed by Surgeon Kennedy and Dr Maurice Hayes, who applied the X Rays. The bullet was located in the spinal canal, and was extracted by Surgeon Kennedy. The constable is progressing favourably.

MR ASQUITH AND IRELAND.

Speaking last night, Mr Asquith said:—In Paris they were engaged in starting upon a new era of self-determined life, peace and communities, none of them more gifted than the Irish, who had too long been denied the right and the power to control their own development and destiny. It should be an object of paramount urgency with all true Liberals that we should do likewise here at home.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The public at large would do well to look out for the booking, soon open, for the musical comedy to be produced at the Theatre Royal from May 12 to May 17 inclusive, with a matinee on Thursday, May 15. "A Greek Slave" has not been staged for some years in Limerick, and only once before, but given that the public once hear the music, very little short of grand opera, very impressive, especially in the big choral parts, and very catchy and tuneful in the lighter numbers, we feel confident they will want to hear the production more than once. Although a full month has yet to elapse before production, the vocalists and chorus have already begun to get the finishing touches, and the orchestra, numbering 30, a full band, adds the one essential thing—namely, a most harmonious musical effect.

OUT AND ABOUT.

In the list of subscriptions for the entertainment of Repatriated Prisoners of War the name of Mrs Furnell, £10, should have read—Roxborough District of the Limerick County and City U A L, per Mrs Furnell, £10.

The schemes for the electoral areas under the proportional representation system for Irish election to local bodies are being drawn up by the Irish L G B, and some of them are nearly completed.
