The Rathkeale Tragedy.

Shooting of Sergeant Neazor. The Inquest and Verdict.

Commercial Traveller's Experience. [FROM OUR REPORTER].

Additional details are new available of the shooting tragedy in the Hibernian Hotel, Rathkesle, on Wednesday night. They go to show tha the butrage was evidently earsfully planned. that he outrage was evidently certainly planned. During the day, which was fair day in the town, the deceased, Sergeant George Nerzor and Constable Garratt Doyle, who were in plain clothes, were protecting Michael O'Brien, a fand steward from Raton Co Kerry, who was doing business at the fair. In the evening they retired to the Discount Hotel, situated in the Main atreet, and the Mr J Ward, and have they had tea. to closk or so the door of the commercial room where they were was pushed open and fire or six men entered. Shots were fired in quick succession and Sergeant Nearger was fatally wounded, while Constable Doyle was wounded in the hip and wrist. The affair, naturally, created a sensation in the hotel and in the town, and yesterday there was a general feeling of abhortenos among the people on the commission of a dastardly crime in a locality with its record for peace and good order.

od erder. At the inquest on Thorsday night the entire

At the inquest on Threday night the entire facts, so far as they were procurable, were related to the Cdromer and jury. The investigation was held in the Hiberaian Hitest.

The inquest opened at the Colock, and was conducted by Dr M Cusser, Pallaskenry, who acted as deputy for Dr Hannigan, the district Coroner. The following were sworn on the jury—Michael Magner 'Romeman', Romard Magner, Denis Hickey, Daniel Frawley, William Costelloe, Michael Hennessy, Mauripe Gavin, Denis Kelly, Matthew O'Shea, Cornelius Brennan, Reward Kiernan, Christopher Sperling, Patrick O'Shea, J J O'Donnell, and Michael Culhane.

The authorities were represented by County Inspector Yates, District Inspector Browning, and Head-Constable Price.

During the proceedings the widow and relatives of the deceased were present, and were pathetic listeners to the narration of the fasts connected with the cutrage.

listeners to the narration of the fasts connected with the tutrage. Rvidence of identification was given by Mr Adam Negzir. He stated that the deceased was thirty-nine years of age and married. He was a sergeant in the Royal Irish Constabulary, and had been stationed in the County Kerry for some years past.

Mr McGuire was the next witness. He stated that he was by occup ution a commercial traveller, and resided at Morthumberland Road, Dablin. He and resided at Northumberland Road, Dublin. He was staying at the Hiberdian Hotel on Wednesday and was in the commercial room at bout 9 volces that night when three men, of whom deceased was one, entered. All the men appeared to him to be civilians. They had tee, and afterwards sat round the fireside chatting. Contable Dujle sat in a shair next the door, Muchael O'B ien was in the cettre opposite the fire, and the deceased, Sergeant Neazor, was sitting in a chair further away from the door, and sattle fanjor it. Somewhort time after 10 colont partly faping it. Some short time after 10 o'clock a man, about 25 years of age, warring a light overcost and a bowler hat, came into the room. overcost and a bowler hat came into the room. He sat down and did not speak to appone. He left after a brief time, and while witness was reading a newspere five or six min rushed into the apartment. He could not give any deceiption of the man further than that the two who were lexiling were low-sized, wearing espa and dark overcosts. The next thing he noticed was that one of the men held a nickle plated revolver in his hand, and the others extended their hands. Immediately he hand shots tended their hands. Immediately he heard shots fired in quick succession. Witness, seeing the attantion, left his chair and croushed for safety nuderneath the table. While in the position he saw the deceased stagger across from the fire-the stage and fall. At that moment he noticed that deceased had a revolver in his hand. The men then left and medical aid was summoned.

Medical testimony was then given by Dr Thos Magner. J.P., and Dr JB Rayes who attended the decessed and Constable Doyle immediately they were summoned to the scene of the shooting.

Dr Magner's evidence was to the effect that the decessed had a bullet wound on the right breast about six inches above the nipple. Death, in his compiler, was due to shook and hemoryhege caused

This was all the evidence product, and after a brief consultation the jury re urned a verdict that the deceased, Sespeant George Newzor, died on the lith March, 1920, as a result of a bullet wound and hemorphage, and that said wound was inflicted by some person or persons unknown. They desired to tender to the widow and relatives of the deceased their avenualty in their bereavement. deceased their sympathy in their bereavement.

deceased their sympathy in their bereavement.

The proceedings then concluded.

The remains were subrequently removed to the Rathkeale police barrack, awaiting interment.

The late Sergeant Neszri was a native of Ballycahare, Pailaskenry, where his wife and two children reside. He was one of the best known members of the Co Kerry police force, and had been stationed in Tralee for some years. For some time past he had been located at Rateo protecten post, Lixnaw. He was an efficient police offiser.

An inquest was held yesterday by Mr J F Barry, Coroner, at the City Courthouse, touching the dea h of James Downes, single, aged 38, an exception, who was found dead near the mouth of the lim-kim fit the Pock road on Thursday morning.
To get into the kiln a wall six to eight feet had to be climbe. The evidence of Dr Graxam was that in his opinion death was due to the breathing of e-rhon monoxide gas, causing insensibility, and Troops Move on to Berlin.

Workers General Strike Proclaimed.

Berlin, Saturday.

An immediate dauger of a violent revolution has been threatened during the night. At midnight it was learned that bodies of revolting thoose at Doberitz, and two naval brigades had begun to move on Berlin. At five o'clock this morning the naval: brigades were at Tiergarten at the Baltic troops also joined in the revolt. Generals were sent to warn the troops of the on sequences of their action.

Noke and others summoning a workers' general strike proclamation has been issued stating that the Government has eessed to exist, and the entire authority has passed to Herr Kapp as Imperial Chancellor, and the Prussian Fremier.

A new Government, ordering freedom and action, is being formed.

The troops entered Berlin, and occupied Wilhelmstrasse. No acts of violence has occurred. The Social Democratic Party is pro-
